

DOVER.

Mrs. Albert Bruske left for Wausau, Wis., a few days since, her mother being very ill at that place and well advanced in age; there is little hope of her recovery.

— McKissick of Valley City was a guest at the homes of the Jarvis and Baum families last Sunday.

Belle Langworthy and Mrs. Ross of Courtenay called on U. W. Lantz's family last week.

Frank Dick and wife were in Dover on the 10th; they came to see M. Riley, who is improving as fast as can be expected, and hopes soon to be able to sit up.

Mesdames D. R. Swartwout and Pattison made the Kribbs family a very pleasant call this week.

J. Gibson and wife spent Sunday at U. W. Lantz's.

Mesdames C. A. Sanford, J. Bradford and Robinson of Courtenay paid the Kribbs family a visit recently.

We were about to report C. M. Kribbs as through cutting wheat when some one at our elbow disputed, saying that he had one slough of the unripened grain, consisting of a few acres. His grain crowded him unusually hard this season, and now Mr. Baum and neighbors on adjoining farms are gathering up binder chains, which, it seems, flew an incredible distance. Anyhow he is to be congratulated as the first one to have practically finished harvesting wheat.

County Superintendent Sinclair was visiting the schools on Thursday.

S. Miller brought a new binder to his farm this week.
