

Died at Wappingers Falls, N. Y., June 30, Irvin Houghtalin familiarly known in this community as "Windy Jim." He fell from a ladder while trimming trees. J. I. has as wide a circulation of acquaintances among the old settlers as any man in this vicinity. While he occasionally drew on his imaginations it was only done to enliven mankind and not for personal injury.