

Death of Herman Grahn.

The news of the death of Herman Grahn, which occurred in the hospital for the insane at Jamestown. Saturday, came as a great surprise as is deeply regretted by friends here. The young man was well known here having been in the employ of several farmers in this vicinity, prior to the time he was committed to the Jamestown hospital about a year ago. Until recently it was supposed his condition was improving and his taking away was sudden and unexpected.

The remains were taken to his home at Wausau, Wis., Monday evening for burial, Otto Hemp of this place accompanied them.
