

School Opens

Monday

THE FOLLOWING IS THE LIST OF
TEACHERS FOR THE 1914-15 TERM

School begins next Monday with the following teachers:

M. E. Chamberlain, Superintendent.

Josephine Somsen, high school principal.

Jessie Haynes, high school assistant.

Agnes Dodd, music and drawing.

Helen S. Marsh, 7th and 8th grades.

Stella Jacobson, 5th and 6th grades.

Hazel Beach, 3rd and 4th grades.

Mary Robinson, 1st and 2nd grades.

September 14, Monday, is the 100th anniversary of the writing of the national song, "The Star Spangled Banner." U. S. Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton has suggested that every school have some exercises appropriate to the day. Accordingly plans are being made to carry out the suggestion, and for an hour or so Monday morning there will be some varied exercises, probably in the high school room. The rest of the forenoon will be taken up with enrolling and classifying and arranging the programs.

As usual text books are to be furnished by the district, but a strict record of books given out is to be kept by the teachers, together with their condition when given out and when returned so that unnecessary damage may be charged up and collected. To insure the payment of any such arrearages, grades or promotions will be withheld until collection is made. It is to be hoped that no such charges will need to be made but that each one will try to see who can keep his books in the best condition.
