

Otto Johnson, who has been holding down the depot agency at Bloom for the past 6 months has been bumped as was reported in the last issue and has rented the store building that was vacant at Eckleson and intends putting in a large stock of groceries and mens furnishings. We are glad to see Otto do this for we think that he will make good as he is well liked by all that know him and we predict for him success in every sense of the word.

---