

New Soo Agent Here

A. P. McFadden, who has been the agent at the Soo depot for some time, has resigned and C. F. Hartho of Minot, has arrived and taken the position.

While it was generally known that Mr. McFadden had planned to leave railroad work, still it came as a surprise to many of his friends, as he has always proved accomodating with the large number doing business with him. Mr. McFadden has taken a position with the Cox-Nelson company, which position he had offered him before his resignation was sent in to the Soo headquarters, and both Mr. and Mrs. McFadden expect to remain in the city for the present occupying the rooms which they have lived in since their residence here, over the depot.

Mr. Hartho comes well recommended and fully qualified to handle the large business transacted at this station, having been agent at Valley City for three years and also has been at the Minot station, from which place he has just left.
