Doc. L. C. L'Moore was here on political business on Tuesday.

Harry and Pearle Sidnam were Jamestown callers on Monday last.

Raymond L. Dorson is assisting Myron Sisson with his farm work.

Mrs. E. A. Dunwell left Wednesday for Winthrop, Minnesota, to visit friends and relatives for some time.

Howard Smith of Jamestown has been here for the last couple of days fumigating several places where small pox had its run.

Dr. A. J. Lang of Sanborn was here on Saturday calling on several patients and incidentally vaccinating those who wanted to be vaccinated.

R. E. Dresser has invested in a new Ford five passenger car. This is the very latest style and model and we expect Mr. Dresser will take a lot of pleasure in running it about. It has the fore door on it also.

Grace Farley left Friday evening last for Minneapolis where she will visit friends for a few days, from thence she will go to Red Wing, Minn., there to visit friends for a while also. She expects to be gone about a month.

There was no church or Sunday School last Sunday on account of the small pox scare. There will be none held for the next three weeks also owing to the fact that the camp meeting will be held in Jamestown and thus giving the ministers a chance to attend all the meeting.

There is a small pox scare in town, the home of H. F. Hobert is quarantined and two of the boys are very ill. Dr. Guëst and Dr. Peake of Jamestown were here on Wednesday and put the big sign up and also vaccinated a number of children. Mr. Hobert who clerks at the E. J. Clamp store has to sleep elsewhere and eat wherever he can get his meals, he not being there when the sign was put up. There seems to be an epidemic going the rounds here and quite a number outside of the above mentioned have been down with it. It does not effect the patients like the old fashioned small pox as it does not leave pits, seems to be more like chicken pox than anything.

Try the Gazette for a year.

T. C. Weatherbee and son are ill at their home near Urbana.

W. W. Bemis of Courtenay was here on business Tuesday.

Geo. McLain was a Jamestown caller, to-day returning on the afternoon early train.

John Knauf of Jamestown was at Spiritwood Thursday attending the J. P. Price funeral.

Chas. Mahoney lost a valuable cow on Wednesday it being struck and killed by No. 5 in the evening.

Myron Sisson was called on the June term of court as a jurymen but was dismissed for a time.

Wanted—Girl for general housework immediately, $4 per week. Phone or write Sidnam Bros., Spiritwood, N. D.

Mrs. E. A. Dunwell Erick Lundeen and M. O. Ruud of this city are on the roll of this week as subscribers to the Courtenay Gazette and Spiritwood Bugle.

Miss Hortense Barge of St. Peter, Minnesota, arrived here on Monday evening to attend the wedding of Miss Mable Dunwell to Albert Doerr.

Mae Farley left for Jamestown last Saturday after visiting her sister here for a few days. Ruby Farley accompanied her to visit for a few days.

The funeral of the late James R. Price occurred Tuesday, most everybody suspended labor on that day and paid their respects to their old friend and neighbor. About 70 teams and autos were in the procession. Rev. Phillips of Jamestown officiated.

Five or six families are quarantined for small pox in this berg, and out in the country. Quite a number of families have had it and are over the sickness and we think it justice to all to have them all fumigated; it seems that the health officers only fumigate a few places and not all that have had it.

Frank Sinecock of Fargo, N. D., is visiting with the W. H. Sherman family for a few days. Frank is on his way west and intends locating on the coast some place in business. All who know Frank will wish him all kind of good fortune. He harvested for Mr. Sherman for two year and is well known around here.

Cow Killed By No. 5

Elsewhere in this issue you will find a notice of a cow being killed by No. 5 in the evening of the 6th of June. It seems that this is getting to be a common occurrence as there has been 6 cows and eight horses killed within 4 miles of Spiritwood in the past three years. It seems to be carelessness on the part of the R. R. employees as it seems that some of this is easily prevented by a little watchfulness on the part of the engineer. Most of these animals have been killed by either No. 1 or No. 5 running west in the evenings. If the R. R. Co. would fence the Right of Way for 5 miles on each side of the track here, they could have easily paid for the highest price fence and posts and still have a lot of spending money left over.

Ye Editor was a business caller at Eckelson on Wednesday.

Albert Dunwell and Albert Doerr were Jamestown callers on Tuesday last.

C. A. Jones of Eckelson left yesterday (Tuesday) for Litchfield to attend to business matters concerning his farm there.

Robert Seabenow was recently elected to the honorary position of school director in the Rose Township at the last school election.

Claud, Harry, and Pearle Sidnam left Tuesday afternoon for Minneapolis to attend the funeral of their mother who died at that place.

Fred Fried left Tuesday morning for Fargo to attend the big meeting of the Elks at that place. He left Herbert Gordonin charge of his business until his return.

Herman Peters of Jamestown has purchased a J. I. Case Gang plow of Rounseville and Doty. Herman knows a good thing when he sees it for this is the third J. I. Case implement he has bought inside of a year of the same firm.

C. A. Flynn, with one of his sons, is up in Canada putting in a half section of flax near the N. Dak. line. They drove up to Portal, N. Dak., and shipped from there to their farm. They are not expected home until about harvesting time.

Robert Stabenow is a new subscriber to our paper. This is the idea and we hope that many others who see this will hand their subscription to Mr. Dunwell and it will be appreciated. Get the news of the town and help the editor and we will have a newsy paper for all to read.

The Programme of the Jamestown M. E. Camp meeting begins to-day and extends to the 24th of June. The real camp meeting does not begin until 8 P. M. on the evening of the 14th. The Preachers Meeting and the Epworth League convention occupies the time before. They bought what is known as the Fuller park and have built a tabernacle on the grounds, they also have a large eating house and large enough to accommodate a large number of people. It is thought that there will be the largest crowd this year of any time yet. All are welcome to attend and also urged to get the best out of these meetings, it is free for all. Rev. Will H. Huff and Rev. C. W. Ruth will be the principal speakers while Miss Edna Banning and Miss Esther Olson who are well known here will be there, and take personal charge of the women and children who come unattended.

Not Satisfied with Service

The Northwestern Telephone Exchange at this place is on the bum. When the telephone Co. bought Mr. Wheland out here some time ago the farmers received the news with gladness but the joy was not long lived for lo and behold they did not attempt to put it in better shape than it ever was before. The line is a one wire line and the poles are placed about seven to a mile and they are not much over 15 ft. high at the most excepting where they had to cross another line or road. There are quite a number of farmers here that have stock in the Co. and they ought to take a hold and compel the Co. to put on competent men to handle the job. It seems that when there is some trouble on the line the Co. send out some kids from Jamestown to look it up. We do not believe half of them ever climbed a telephone pole in their life before. They drive out in the country for a couple of miles and return and sit around until next train into Jamestown. This may suit the Co. all right but it is getting tiresome with those that have telephones and unless something is done the farmers and business men are liable to put them all out and refuse to use them at all. Here's hoping that the Co. sees this piece in print and takes notice.

PURIFICATION OF THE OYSTER

Simple Method by Which Even the Worst May Be Made Fit for Consumption.

At a recent meeting of the Academie des Sciences de Paris, a report was presented on some experiments made at Concarnau laboratory with reference to the methods that should be used to prevent accidents caused by contaminated oysters. The author has been able to convince himself that it is possible to render shellfish harmless, even after they have been reared in the most unsanitary of surroundings, by placing them for a fortnight in filtered water before selling them to the public. He states, moreover, that this form of "quarantine" in pure water has no evil effects on the quality of the oysters. If all this be so, there is surely no necessity to run the risk of typhoid fever from oysters polluted by sewage. Possibly some will remember the contamination caused in Dublin several years ago by an epidemic of a fatal type of typhoid fever traced finally to the oysters fattened upon the pollutions from the drains. Even today there are many who justly dread the oyster taken from the best known beds in British waters.—Montreal Herald.

LESSENS DANGER TO AVIATOR

Ingenious Device by Which Altitude May Be Reckoned Almost Infinitely.

An ingenious plan which has been suggested for measuring the altitude of an aeroplane, and which, while it requires the services of an independent operator, demands no other apparatus than an accurate stop watch, is the acoustic method. Writing of it in Cassier's Magazine, Henry Harrison Supplee says: "Any sharp sound, such as a quick whistle, or report which may be differentiated from the noise of the machine itself, will be returned to the ear of the operator in the form of an echo from the surface of the earth. If, therefore, the time elapsing between the sound and the echo be noted, the corresponding distance may be estimated from the known velocity of sound. Taking the velocity of sound at 1,100 feet a second, or a little more than 100 feet for a tenth of a second, and, remembering that it is the double distance, going and returning, which is thus computed, the error of observation would be between 50 and 60 feet for one-tenth of a second."

Dunwell-Doerr

WELL KNOWN YOUNG LADY BECOMES JUNE BRIDE LAST WEDNESDAY

Miss Mable Dunwell, of Spiritwood, N. Dak., one of our well known young ladies, and Albert Doerr from Renville, Minn., were married at the home of the bride's brother, Albert W. Dunwell on June 12th. Rev. J. G. Morrison of the M. E. church of Jamestown, officiated.

The bride was becomingly dressed in white and the groom wore the conventional black.

After the wedding ceremony, a few intimate friends and relatives were invited to the dining room where a sumptuous breakfast was served.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Hortense Barge of St. Peter, Minn., the Misses Bronson of Gaylord, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stege of Medina, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Doerr left on the 10:50 train for Renville, Minn., where they will make their future home.

$1.50 a year brings you this paper. Talk it over with Mr. Dunwell.

For Sale at a Bargain

A bargain in real estate is as valuable a safe investment. I offer my half section farm, 2 miles north of Spiritwood, in one of the best localities, with a good house, barn granary, pasture, windmill; 240 acres under cultivation, balance under fence and in hay. Will give half crop consisting of wheat, winter rye and barley, if taken by June 1st. Until that time half crop goes at same price as will be later charged without. This farm is well located and you can make no mistake in buying as it will never be offered as cheap again. This is not a run down farm as it has been exceptionally well farmed for many years, and this year gives prospects of a bumper crop. Write to W. P. Hayes at Spiritwood, N. D.
