

Local Happenings of the Week

E. J. Hayes of Urbana, was a city visitor on last Monday.

Mrs. M. E. Dorsons is visiting her folks in town at this writing.

Theo and David Price were Wimbledon visitors on Friday of last week.

It is reported that Ben. Bjornson has rented the Geo. Bownson farm south of town.

Most of the threshing is now completed around here with the exception of a few small patches of flax.

There will be prayer meeting every Thursday at the parsonage. Everybody is invited to attend if possible.

Elvin Johnson has rented the west half of section 25-140-62 belonging to C. E. Creighton, who lives south of town.

The St. Peter bunch of men and teams left on Thursday last for their homes after threshing on the Rounseville & Doty farms for two months.

Rev. Herbig arrived home on Saturday evening last from Tower City after being there almost all week taking care of his threshing this fall. He reports a good crop on his farm.

Frank Marshke and wife have rented the Davis house and have began housekeeping all under their own management. Frank is as happy as ever, but wait until he has to get up in the early gray dawn of a cold winter morning and make the fire and thaw out the water pail and maybe he will smile some more.

It is reported that a man was badly pounded up by some boes not long ago at Urbana. The men escaped who did the deed but it was learned later that they were caught. The wounded man was reported to be dying, but it has not been confirmed at this date. It seems that the cause of the trouble was on account of some gambling deal they had got into and resulted in the fight and trouble.

David Price was an Urbana visitor one evening last week.

J. N. Johnson pulled in his threshing rig on Saturday last.

Albert and Fred Dunwell were Jamestown callers on Monday last on business.

Stokes and Bruce threshing machine is threshing at the Bruce farm, south of town.

The cold snap hurried the setting up of hard coal stoves so as to make it comfortable in the homes.

Mr. Underwood, with the Gas Traction Co. of Minneapolis, was here the first part of the week starting the gas traction engine for Mr. Diesem.

Chas. Diesem has purchased a Big Four gasoline engine to do his plowing with this fall. It is a thirty horse power engine and is a dandy, so he says.

There will be preaching service at the M. E. church on Sunday, the 10th of November, in the evening at 8 o'clock. All are invited to come and hear the Gospel.

Messrs. Rounseville and Doty left on Thursday last for Crookston, Minn., to look after their interests there, after having spent ten weeks at this berg on business.

Pat Quirk who for the last two years has been in South Dakota on a homestead has returned and at the present writing is visiting at the home of L. B. Stokes. Pat is looking as well as ever and says that South Dakota did not raise as large a crop as North Dakota this year, owing to the drought.

A large amount of wheat is being shipped out of this berg and more will go as soon as the railroad company can furnish cars, as most of the elevators are full. But wait until the new railroad gets under way and N. P. road will not old up any cars here. There will be a lot of them then.

Old Firm Sells Out

Another transfer of importance took place last week in that Rounseville & Doty of this place sold their hardware and machine store to Anton Fried and Son of this place and Wimbledon. The store will be turned over to them directly after election as the inventory will not take place until the day after election. Ye editor, who has been with the Rounseville & Doty firm for six years, and who served as manager of the store and machinery departments for four years, is expected to remain with the firm the same as of old. The transfer will include the store buildings and lot. Mr. Fried and son will control the greater part of the business here now, in that he will have the only machinery hall in town and only one hardware more in the town.

Fred Freid of this place was a Fargo caller on Sunday last. There seems to be an attraction down in the Red River Valley some place and it seems to attract Mr. Freid.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmack of Minneapolis, who have been in this "neck of the woods," for the last three weeks or more, left on Tuesday last for Minneapolis and home after spending quite a time away from there taking in the threshing.
