

Budd Daugherty, who caught for the Hannaford base ball team a year ago, is a brother of B. J. Daugherty, the automobile salesman, who was murdered in Chicago by a young man who lured Daugherty into the basement of his home and killed him with a base ball bat, the object being to secure the valuable car Daughterty was demonstrating. This murder was one of the most fiendish ever perpetrated in Chicago. All the base ball fans along the line will remember Budd Dougherty from his work as catcher while with the Hannaford team last year.