

Marcus Bakken writes from Anaconda, Mont., that he has already started work at his trade as a carpenter at good wages, and prospects for steady work. He likes the country out there fine.