HANNAFORD SCHOOL NOTES

• • • • •

The Literary Society has been divided into two groups. The object is to promote the spirit of competition and so arouse more interest and enthusiasm in the pupils taking part. A debate is to be given by the different groups some time during the next month. The two pupils chosen by the teachers to be the leaders were Elsie Jensen and Marjorie Sinclair. The members of the groups are to choose a name for their respective divisions, although this has not yet been done.

There will be no Literary program this Friday because the time has been taken up in preparation for the coming school program.

Mrs. Joseph Chester, one of the High School teachers, has resigned her position in the Hannaford Schools, so that she may join her husband in their new home in Oregon. She was well liked by all her pupils and will be greatly missed.

The School Program, which has been in preparation for some time, will be given next week on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7th.

Mr. B. T. Rodgers from Missouri, has arrived to take Mrs. Chester's place.

Mother: I've tried so hard to make you a good child, Oma, and yet in spite of all my efforts you are still rude and naughty. Oma, (deeply moved) What a failure you are, mother.
