

Helmer Haugen, who for several years has been in the employ of the Great Northern locally, is now located with his family at Luverne, where he has a position as section foreman.