

George J. Jacobson, formerly president of the defunct Farmers State Bank at Walum, who was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced by Judge Englert to five years in the state penitentiary, was taken from Valley City to Bismarck last Tuesday under the escort of the state transportation officer, to begin serving his term. Mr. Jacobson was unable to secure bonds so as to be able to remain a liberty while his case was being appealed.