

Word was received here last week that Will and Peter Margach and W. Hemmingson, who recently left for California with the intention of investing in land if conditons were favorable, had each bought a forty-acre tract near Livingston, Cal., and expressed themselves as well satisfied with prospects in that part of the state.