

WALUM NEWS NOTES

Mrs. N. Murphy, of Fargo, is visiting at the Melvin Heyerdahl home west of town.

E. W. Everson went to Fargo Wednesday on business. He returned home Friday.

E. W. Everson left Friday for Valley City on business returning home Sunday.

St. Olaf's Ladies Aid will have their Annual Sale and Supper in the Walum Hall Friday evening November 5th. Everyone is cordially invited. Among the many good things on the menu will be Lutefisk, Lefse, Chicken and Roast, and Mashed Potatoes.

James Bothwell was a passenger for McHenry Wednesday going there to bring Elmer Nelson's Ford car home which he left there a few days ago when he bought a Ford truck which he intends to use for a school bus.

Halloween parties played their pranks to some extent in Walum Sunday night. Monday morning found the streets literally covered with machinery and implements, automobiles and the like. A cow belonging to O. A. Gilbertson and which was tied in his barn had been taken out of the barn and led into the schoolroom in the school house and there tied to a seat and left for the night. The cow having no knowledge of school rules and regulations created quite a muss in the schoolroom so it was impossible to have school in session Monday. Not many cows have an opportunity to go to school and as a result this particular cow has increased considerable in value on account of having been educated. This sort of prank was carried a bit too far on account of it having made it necessary to delay school for the day.
