

Last week the rumor was circulated around town that Mrs. J. A. H. Winsloe had died at a Fargo hospital following an operation for cancer. This was not a fact. Following the operation she has not regained complete consciousness, although specialists from as far away as Chicago have been called to attend her, little hope for her recovery is expressed.