

Nels Austad arrived Saturday from Cherokee, Iowa, after an absence of over two years. Mr. Austad states that the season in Iowa also has been cold and dry, alternating with extremely hot weather during the summer. He found the crops in this vicinity and in the Red River Valley in good condition.