

The Hannaford school opens on Monday, Oct. 1st, when every parent and guardian should make an especial effort to see that the school children are there ready for business on the first day. The date set for the opening of our school was placed so late this year in order to accommodate those who could be used to garner the crop, that is is imperative that everyone should co-operate with the teachers in starting the school year right, that the course of studies may have received no material setback. A good beginning in the school curriculum means easy going, comparatively, throughout the entire term.
