

David T. Nelson, the last Rhoades scholar from North Dakota, formerly principal of the Hannaford schools, is engaged in relief work in Belgium. Mr. Nelson accompanied the party of about 50 Rhoades scholars who went to the stricken country several weeks ago. They have been placed at various stations in Belgium, and their work will be to look after the forwarding of American food to the sufferers.