

August Palm is seriously ill with Bright's disease. All the children are present at the bedside of their father in anticipation of the worst.