

Ernest Stee returned home from the University a week ago. Owing to the importance of securing big crops this year, all the University boys were allowed to return home to help with the farm work.