

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mills are the proud parents of a nineteen months old baby boy who arrived at their home last Friday. This statement sounds a little unreasonable, but in their case the stork departed from the regular method of procedure and delivered the boy to his new parents by way of the Orphan's Home at Fargo. On their return from a visit to relatives in Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Mills stopped at Fargo and made arrangements with the Home for the adoption of a child and last Friday one of the attendants brought the little boy to Hanaford to his new home, and,—all concerned are doing nicely.
