

Ed Axberg, the aviator who was injured at Sutton last summer when his passenger was killed, figured last week in an accident in which two children were killed, when the airship Mr. Axberg was driving collided with a sleigh full of school children.