

Jacob Seigel's little son William was lost three hours Sunday causing quite a bit of excitement in Karnak and a great deal of anxiety to his parents. The boy was found, however, by Chas. Ross, in Mr. Seigel's pasture. He had no doubt wandered away from home and had probably taken a nap in the high grass as he was none the worse for his experience.

---