LEWIS BERG

Lewis Berg Is Laid To Rest Here Tuesday

Aug 22 - 1935
Came To Griggs County As A Farm Laborer In Summer of 1883

Farm Was Big Interest

Served As First Chairman of Village Board of this Community

Lewis Berg, long time Cooperstown resident and member of Griggs county's fast thinning ranks of pioneers, was laid to rest here Tuesday afternoon following funeral services in the Cooperstown Lutheran church. Rites at the church were preceded by short services at the Berg home in this city, Rev. I. O. Jacobson officiating.

Illness which pursued him during the last few months of his life followed 70 years of unusual good health and struck him seriously for the first time about four weeks ago. He was taken to a Fargo hospital after the first week of illness and was under treatment and care of the Fargo clinic until his death Saturday afternoon, August 17. Death was attributed to malignant tumor.

52 Years In Griggs

His passing marked the end of a 52 year career in Griggs county which began in 1883 when, as a youth of 18 years, he worked as a farm laborer and continued through a half century of active interest in numerous lines of endeavor including farming, general merchandising, farm machinery, real estate and banking.

He was the first chairman of the village board of Cooperstown, later served as county commissioner, and was a member of the local school board from 1912 to 1928.

Interested In Farming

Despite many interests, civic and commercial, his first love was farming and in this he was a stout defender of power farming and a champion of the purebred cattle movement in North Dakota. During his lifetime he acquired considerable land near this city, operated it largely by tractors, and took especial pride in his herd of purebred Shorthorn cattle. He won an honorable mention for outstanding work with his herd from the Milking Shorthorn Society and was elected its first president.

Born In Minnesota

Lewis Berg was born in Fillmore county, Minn., April 29, 1865, Lanesboro being his home town. He came to Griggs county in 1883 as a farm laborer. Later he took up the vocation of farming and in 1892 he became a partner in a farm machinery business with Erick Erickson, formerly of this city. Three years later he participated in the formation of a new firm, Berg Brothers & Co., which included his brother, Andrew Berg, Erickson and Albert Larson, and dealt in machinery, real estate, and general merchandise.

Was Bank President

In 1906 he joined James Sinclair, recent member of Congress from North Dakota, Oscar Greenland and Otto Pritz in the establishment of the First National Bank of Binford and served as president of that institution for a number of years. He retired from the bank in 1918, to devote his attention to farming and real estate interests. He was in his 71st year at the time of his death.

In 1899 he was united in marriage to Ingeborg Alfson and to this union five children were born.

Surviving him besides his wife are five children, Monroe of Fargo, and Clarence, Leander, Esther and Orrion all of this city. Two brothers, Anon of Elmo, Wash., and John, of Cooperstown, also survive.

Cass County Public Health Nurses Serve In Community, Home, School

The public health nurses of the Cass county health department, Mrs. Eugenia Burr and Miss Clarice Galbreath, both of Fargo, are probably two of the busiest women in the county. Each of them has charge of a half of the county and each serves an approximate population of 10,000 persons outside of Fargo.

Mrs. Burr is a graduate of the school of nursing at Evanston hospital, Evanston, Ill. She spent a year in public health study at Loyola university in Chicago and did field work in public health in Cook county in Illinois. Miss Galbreath is a graduate of St. Luke's hospital school of nursing here and studied public health at the University of Minnesota, doing field work at Eau Claire, Wis.

MISS GALBREATH

nee Eugenia Rose * * *

Separate from the city health department, the Cass county department is an official agency, tax supported, and covers rural communities and villages. The two nurses work by a generalized program which they break up into ten smaller programs serving communities, schools, entire families and individuals. They plan to spend at least a day or half day a week at their desks in the court house in Fargo where they map out the month's activity, complete reports, and receive calls for special services in their territory. Miss Louise Iverson, secretary, assists them with their abundant correspondence.

A communicable disease program gives immunization to all age and income groups. Four clinics are conducted each spring and four each fall. Inoculations are given for small pox, whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria. Three visits are made to each place a clinic is held until the series of inoculations is completed. Two clinics are held in the north half of the county and two in the south half.

Last year, 738 complete immunizations were given. All the clinics are sponsored by organizations in the communities where they are conducted. The organizations include such groups as Parent Teacher associations, Homemaker groups, American Legion posts and local lodges. The local doctors of the community serve the clinics and do the inoculating.

"We work in co-operation with the doctors," says Mrs. Burr. "The people in the county have also been very co-operative in our home visits, clinics and class work." The program also covers the placing of quarantines.

Another classification of the generalized program is maternal care. The two nurses work in co-operation with the doctors in the county and conduct classes in maternal and prenatal care with the doctors consent. Home visits to entire families and individual patients are also made.

The infant and pre-school classification consists of teaching in homes and before groups. Clinics are held to check for deformities.

The school program and health education is one of the biggest tasks of the county nurses. They teach the school child personal and environmental hygiene, care of toilets, water supplies and how to wash hands. Correct seating, lighting and ventilation are stressed.

brought before the school board of the school they are inspecting.

The schools Mrs. Burr and Miss Galbreath visit number 72, of which 53 are rural and 19 village. One-third of the rural schools are examined by them every year and all students of all grades in the schools are checked. In the villages, grades 1, 4, 7 and 11 are visited every year. Request visits are always answered. Doctors, the nurses or both do the examinations.

In these examinations hearing, audiometer and vision tests are given. The teacher keeps records of heights and weights. The county nurses check posture, nutrition and speech habits and each child's record is kept through the grades and can be transferred to other schools.

Routine physicals include tuberculosis patch tests to all first grade pupils and all high school students. The age groups are chosen because the degree of susceptibility is greater in those age groups explains Mrs. Burr. Reports of examinations are sent to the parents. Other work with tuberculosis is done by authorizing and suggesting X-rays, working through the Christmas seal fund and state mobile unit.

The nurses hold conferences with both teachers and students and help with hot lunch programs. "Cass county has a greater number of schools using hot lunches than any other county in the state," says Miss Galbreath.

The crippled children portion of the program touches on all youth in the county up to 21 years of age, in or out of school. In these cases the nurses refer the patient to a doctor. The annual clinic, sponsored by the Elks club is held in Fargo.

Morbidity, actual bedside nursing, is touched on by the nurses in their teaching of how to make a patient more comfortable in bed and how to change surgical dressings. The nurses administer hypodermics under a doctor's order.

Mental health and geriatrics, the care of older people, are two subjects somewhat new to the county program. In both the nurses discuss the problems. "In mental health," advises Mrs. Burr, "there is need for more opportunity rooms in the schools."

While geriatrics applies to persons of all income groups there is little the county nurse can do other than suggest methods of making the older persons comfortable and work easier for the person caring for them.

Besides their routine work, these nurses like to address Parent Teacher associations, Homemaker groups, 4-H clubs and other clubs and associations. They especially appreciate the Cass County Advisory Health council which meets four times a year. The council is comprised of representatives of various organizations and of individuals who are interested in health problems.

A. E. F. CAPTAIN PICKS HIS BRIDE FROM COOPERSTOWN

Miss Lilliann Blackwell Weds William H. Dial—Settings for the Wedding Are Exceptionally Attractive—Couple Will Live in Akron, Ohio.

Jonquils, ferns and pink roses, simply arranged thruout the rooms in home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Blackwell, parents of the bride, formed very pretty setting for the wedding of Miss Lilliann Jane Blackwell and Mr. William H. Dial, which was solemnized at noon on Wednesday, February eighteenth. An improvised altar had been arranged in the reception hall, and before this the bridal party stood while Reverend Mr. Bennett read the double ring marriage service.

Miss Esther Glasoe very sweetly sang "Beauteous Night" and then, as she played the Mendelssohn Wedding March, Miss Lilliann, attended by her sister, Miss Ruth, descended the stairs and was met by Mr. Dial and his attendant, Hollis Blackwell, brother of the bride. The bride wore a lovely gown of white organdie and lace and her boquet was a shower of pink roses and freesia. Miss Ruth, attired in gown of maize chiffon, carried a cluster bouquet of daffodils and fern.

After the wedding service, a four-course luncheon was served. The table was daintily decorated with sprays of smilax, yellow candles and a center of jonquils with a Kewpie bride and groom therein ensconced. Unique and very pretty little place cards, painted by Miss Ruth, were used. During the luncheon Victrola music was played, and Miss Glasoe sang several songs.

Of unusual sincerity and warmth are the congratulations and good wishes which friends within and without this community shower upon Mr. and Mrs. Dial, who left on the evening train for visits in Minneapolis and Chicago.

MRS. NELLIE E. BARNARD DEAD

Former Citizen of Griggs County Passes Away at Denver, Colorado. 1908

The many old-time friends in Cooperstown and Griggs county of Mrs. Nellie E. Barnard, sister of Hon. R. C. Cooper of this city, will regret to hear of her death which occurred at her home in Denver, Colo., Monday night of this week. Mrs. Barnard has been in poor health for two years and was in the sanitarium until last fall when feeling better she returned to her home. Four weeks ago she was taken very sick and has gradually failed from that time. The real cause of her death was tumor of the liver. Mrs. Barnard received a very severe shock many years ago while out in a severe blizzard one night, being lost in the storm, and never really recovered from that shock. She and her husband came to Griggs county in 1881 and were among the first settlers here. About 1887 they moved to California and Mr. Barnard died at Los Angeles about 14 years ago, the family then moved to Colorado where they have lived ever since. Two children survive her, George and Emma. The deceased was born in 1843 and would have been 65 years old in April of this year. Mrs. Barnard was a devout Christian woman, devoting the early years of her life to the building up of church work at Cooperstown and helped to build the present Congregational church of which she was a member at that time. She had a large circle of friends and her home was a hospitable one where the friends and neighbors used to gather to enjoy its genial warmth and hospitality. The old homestead is three miles east of town and is now owned by Mrs. Thea Upton. In the passing away of this estimable lady the children lose a loving parent, the relatives and nation a splendid specimen of American motherhood.

D. He was graduated there in 1901 and taught in Iowa and South Dakota until 1906, when he homesteaded in Bowman county, North Dakota.

In 1908 he resumed teaching, at Granville, N. D., and was superintendent four years. In 1912 he was elected McHenry county school superintendent and served until 1920, when he became state inspector of rural schools for five years until going to Mayville.

He received B. S. and M. S. degrees at the University of North Dakota and did graduate work at Columbia university.

Mr. Berg was a former president of the North Dakota Education association and on many National Education association committees. He was a life member of both groups. Dear Sir:

You recently requested me to send you a copy of the obituary relative to Mrs. Bartlett's passing. It has taken me some time to get this as I was obliged to work through parties in Searsport, Maine.

It seems the papers had been destroyed; and, therefore, they went to Bangor where the paper is published, and from the filed there they were able to get the one inclosed.

In a letter to me, they refer to the fact that another obituary published in the following week was much better but they cannot find the copy of the paper. I regret that I cannot give you this one.

Very truly yours,

Obituary.

Ole Broten was born Nov. 16, 1875, in Kragerø, Norway. Came to the United States in July, 1899, and made his home in Griggs county, N. Dak.

In 1914 he married Mrs. Ingeborg Brekke. To this union three children were born, Garfield, Olaf and Vernon.

Mr. Broten looked to be a healthy, robust man, but about a year or so ago he was suddenly taken sick when making a trip to Dazey. Since then he has been doctoring at Fargo, remaining at the hospital for many days at a time. His last trip, however, did not prove successful. He came home last Saturday—a real sick man. He failed very fast due to a hemorrhage of the kidneys and a weak heart coupled with pernicious anemia.

His departure is mourned especially by his family, wife and three boy and two step-daughters, Inga and Mrs. Wm. Nelson of Minneapolis, also two brothers John of Walum and Alex of Jenner, Alberta, Canada. He also leaves a host of relatives and friends who deeply feel the loss. The congregation to which he belonged and in which he took a very active part both financially and morally will also miss him, and we all sympathize with the family in their bereavement. He served as trustee of St. Olaf congregation for a number of years and held this office in high esteem and performed his duties efficiently and conscientiously. We shall miss him at our services, our annual business meetings, and as a member of the board of trustees.

He passed away early on Thursday morning, Dec. 3rd, at his home one mile west and one mile north of Walum, at the age of 50 years and 17 days.

We express our sympathy with the family because we know they hated to see a loving father and true husband pass away. The Lord's ways are not ours nor are His thoughts ours. The Lord bless his memory!

Relatives from out of town who were present at the funeral were Mr. H. Norderhaug and Andrew Norderhaug of Ellsworth, Wis., Mr. Lewis Larson and Lewis Tengem of Princeton, Minn., and Mrs. Gjestvold and Mrs. Storhof of Nome, N. Dak.

Funeral services took place on Monday, Dec. 7th at 12 o'clock at the home and at 3 o'clock at the church, Rev. John Haaland preaching the funeral sermon. He was buried in St. Olaf cemetery at Walum.

Bothwell Funeral Held Last Friday Pioneer of Griggs County Laid to Rest in Cooperstown Cemetery

Funeral services over the remains of James Andrew Bothwell, whose death was mentioned in these columns last week, were held from the Presbyterian church of this city on Friday afternoon of last week, Dr. L. C. Cooley officiating. Remains were laid to rest in the Cooperstown cemetery. Death occurred at his home west of Walum suddenly last Wednesday afternoon.

Obituary

James Andrew Bothwell was born near Richmond, in the province of Quebec, Canada, on November 23, 1850, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bothwell and one of a family of eleven children. He was the last survivor of six sisters and five brothers of this family circle.

At the age of thirty years he moved to Griggs county, where he has since made his home. At first the family lived on a farm 12 miles northwest of this city, but in 1902 they moved to the farm four miles west of Walum, where he made his home up to the time of his death.

Three children were born in the home, two sons and a daughter, one son, Andrew, passing away two years ago. His wife died in 1916. Surviving are two children, W. W. Bothwell of Walum and Mrs. E. E. Downe of this city, besides four grandchildren: Eugene Markwood who made his home with him on the farm at the time of his death, Mrs. J. Edward Ballenger of Lincoln, Nebraska, and Wayne W. Bothwell and Lillian Joyce Bothwell.

Funeral Services For Ole P. Bolkan Held Wednesday

Had Been Resident of Griggs
County For Fifty-Two Years

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon of this week over the remains of Ole P. Bolkan, 83, who died at his home in Washburn township Friday morning at 8 o'clock, death being due to chronic nephritis. The funeral rites were conducted from the Ness church east of town, with Rev. Sigurd Sydness of Blabon officiating. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Bolkan was one of Griggs county's pioneer settlers, taking a homestead in what is now Washburn township, fifty-two years ago.

Obituary

Ole P. Bolkan was born in Norway 83 years ago, and came to the United States in 1866. Before coming to Griggs county, Mr. Bolkan worked on the Northwestern railroad near Baraboo, Wisconsin, was in the gold rush to the Black Hills, where the danger from Indians was so great that he returned to Wisconsin. He lived in Rock county, Wisconsin, for five years, going from there to Iowa. He came to Griggs county from Iowa in the summer of 1880, where he worked on the Dalrymple farms and in the fall of that year he took a homestead.

His wife preceded him in death in 1915, but he is survived by a son, Gustav, and a daughter, Mrs. Olaf Gildesgaard, a brother, Christ in Cooperstown and another brother, Martin, in Buxton.

GRIG

SENTINEL—VOL. 27—NO. 40

Dr. C. L. Brimi

HEART FAILURE CAUSES END; WAS A SHOCK TO ALL

Passed Away Monday Evening on Way From Home to His Office.

PIONEER DOCTOR HERE

Remains to Eau Claire, Wis., for Burial; Has Three Children.

Funeral services will be held at the Lutheran church at 1:30 this (Thursday) afternoon, Rev. Estrem officiating. The remains will be taken to Eau Claire, Wis., for burial this afternoon.

Dr. Brimi is dead, carried out of life so quickly as to liken that interval between his apparent health and death to a flash.

On Monday night, following an evening at home with his three children, while Mrs. Brimi was in attendance at the Parent-Teachers' meeting at the school house, he left home at about 10 o'clock for his office, apparently to replenish the furnace fire there. He never reached his office. He got as far as the Benson photo studio and residence, which is next door to his office. Mr. Benson, while in the act of locking the door, pushed open the storm door, to observe that Dr. Brimi was standing there. "I'm a very sick man; let me come in," Mr. Benson says were the last words spoken by the doctor. He helped himself almost inside the house when he placed his hands upon Mr. Benson's shoulders for support and fell to the floor. Help was immediately summoned, Dr. Reese, who is caring for the practice of Dr. Westley in his absence, and who, also, was a school mate of Dr. Brimi's, arriving within ten minutes of the time he fell. Though all possible restoratives were resorted to, there was no evidence of life. Dr. Truscott of Binford, deputy coroner under Dr. Brimi, was summoned and agreed with Dr. Rees that the cause of death was heart failure.

None knew that Dr. Brimi had been at any time troubled by his heart. However, he had told Mrs. Brimi at one time that he did not have as strong a heart as he might. But it is certain that his condition was never such as to cause him any alarm. He had been very energetic and apparently strong of body in every respect. But it is known that he realized throughout Monday night that his heart was not functioning as it ought.

He returned about six o'clock in the evening from a call at Hannaford, visited with I. D. Allen, who was making a clock repair at his office, and went home to supper. During the visit with Mr. Allen there was no hint that the doctor was feeling other than his usual self, nor was there evidence of illness at his supper.

Upon the departure of Mrs. Brimi for the meeting at the school house the doctor entered into an evening of play and entertainment with his children, Betty, age 9, Robert, age 6, and William, a little over two years of age. The children have since told of occurrences at home which indicate that not all was well with their father, though they thought nothing of it then. The doctor had groaned twice or three times during the evening, and once used his stethoscope to study his heart action. With the children away in bed he announced that he was going to his office to look after the furnace fire, urged them not to be afraid and that their mother would be home very soon. His leaving in this manner was not at all unusual, but there is the chance that, while he did have his furnace to look after, he was urged to leave more for the reason that he desired to get to his office where he could obtain some stimulant for the heart. All that is known of that walk from home to his office, a distance of less than three blocks, has been written.

It is difficult to suggest another of this community whose death might bring as deep a sorrow as fell over the people when the word that Dr. Brimi was dead was drifted about. For twenty-seven years he has been a constant resident of Cooperstown, a fine character respected and loved on every hand. And then, carried away as he was, without a word of warning, with only forty-seven years of life behind him and the best part of his life before him, was a visitation such as the community never before has known. In many a home, not alone his own, men and women wept. And with them the children were stilled. Here was a death that even the children observed in more than the casual way. Here was a death which was a severe and personal loss to hundreds. Twenty-seven years of activity as a citizen and as a doctor had not, then, been wasted years, but years in which he had done much to serve, ease and make happy those with whom he came in contact. Words to not respond at an hour like this to give expression to the true feeling of the whole community,—one of sympathy to the wife and children in their loss and of realization that we have all lost heavily in this passing.

Carl Linneaus Brimi was born at Eau Claire, Wisconsin, on April 9, 1876, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sever Brimi. At Eau Claire he attended the grade schools and high school, but did not finish the high school work before entering Rush Medical College, Chicago, to study for the career which was to be his. He graduated from that college in 1897, following which he spent several months as an interne there.

In January following the year of his graduation, he came to Cooperstown and established himself in his profession. That and the several years which followed did not hold for him in his work the conveniences which are available today. It was in those years that the life of a country doctor called for the greatest sacrifices from the man. Those sacrifices Dr. Brimi made. Long hours on the prairie, in bitter cold, behind a team of horses, with surroundings all strange, were only a few of the discomforts which he had to encounter. From the very time of his establishing here he has been recognized as an able physician, and there are hundreds of homes which have been made the happier in dark hours through the confidence inspired in the thought "Brimi is here." His work had won him a very fine practice.

On June 28, 1904, Dr. Brimi was married to Miss Elizabeth Ann

Manke, who had been in Cooperstown several years. To this union the three children, who have been named in an earlier paragraph, were born. The family was a great delight to the doctor, and the hours with his children were daily looked forward to by him. In this case death robs a home of a parent who was very much a part of the life of each occupant of that home, and seems to rob them at an hour when he was most needed.

During the recent world war Dr. Brimi offered his services to the government and was stationed at Fort Riley and Camp Dodge.

Dr. Brimi never refused to respond when called upon to aid in community work. He was a splendid type of citizen, took active part in church work, was a member of the local Masonic, K. of P. and S. of N. lodges. On the night preceding his death he had delivered a splendid address before the Luther League at the Lutheran church.

In addition to his family here, Dr. Brimi is survived by his father, who has headquarters at Ashland, Wis., two brothers, Robert of Ladysmith, Wis., and Fredrick of Enid, Oklahoma, and three sisters: Mrs. P. Lindley, of Milwaukee; Mrs. Otto Riemer of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Wm. Brady of Eau Claire, Wis.

If it can be said that a community of people has, as a unit, a heart, when it can be said, and most truthfully, that the heart of this community is one torn and near to broken as a result of the passing of Dr. C. Brimi. And, too, this heart goes to Mrs. Brimi and the children at his hour, filled with sympathy such as cannot always be expressed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Northrup arrived yesterday from Minneapolis to be with Mrs. Brimi and to accompany her to Eau Claire, Wis., today. Mrs. Northrup is Mrs. Brimi's sister.

Bruns A Pioneer Of Iowa Section

Second White Born in Bremer County; Came Here at Turn of Century.

John W. Brunns was born in Jefferson township, Bremer county, Iowa, December 6, 1855, in a log cabin his parents had erected the previous summer after immigrating with others by ox team from Cook county, Ill., where they had lived for a few years after coming from Germany.

Mr. Brunns was the second white child born in Bremer county, and one of the first five to be baptized in the Lutheran church, organized there by his parents and other immigrants. He was confirmed there in the Lutheran faith.

Married in 1879

He was married October 20, 1879, to Sophia Buesing of Waverly. In 1882 he moved with his wife and baby son, Otto H., to a farm 30 miles northeast of his birthplace. He owned and occupied this farm until he moved to North Dakota in 1904.

While living at this farm, four daughters were born, Lydia, now of New Rockford; Martha, now of Jordan, Mont.; Malinda, now of Cooperstown, and Alma, now of Binford.

Came Here in 1904

Mr. Brunns came to Cooperstown in company with his brother-in-law, Henry G. Rohlwing. Together they bought a 1041 acre tract of land, three miles north of Cooperstown. They operated this in partnership, until selling to Edward Savre and others in 1910.

After selling the Iowa farm in 1908, he bought a farm in Kingsley township and as there was no church of his faith in that vicinity, Mr. Brunns, together with the help of his wife and neighbors, formed a congregation there.

First Wife Died

His first wife died suddenly of pneumonia February 22, 1909. Following this he sold his Kingsley farm and spent most of his time visiting in Iowa as well as on the west coast.

In 1910 he came back to North Dakota and on January 4, 1911, was married to Mrs. Jennie Holmann of Cooperstown. They have lived here since, until the time of his death on Christmas day.

In June, 1931, it was his happy experience to attend the diamond jubilee of the church in which he was baptized in Iowa more than 75 years ago. He was the only one of the first five who were baptized in the congregation to be there to answer the roll call.

J. N. BROWN, 88, PASSES; A GRIGGS COUNTY PIONEER

Died at San Diego, California, Following Injuries by Falling.

CAME HERE IN YEAR 1881

Resided in This County From That Time Until in Year of 1919.

Jackson N. Brown, a constant resident here from 1881 until the fall of 1919, since which time he has resided in California, passed away at his home in San Diego on April 29, following two injuries suffered in falls, injuries which, though not in themselves serious, were too much to be overcome by one who had reached the advanced age attained by Mr. Brown.

Born, on January 1, 1837, in Niagara county, New York, Jackson N. Brown had reached the age of 88 years and 4 months at the time of his death.

His early manhood was spent in Pennsylvania where he engaged extensively and successfully in oil drilling on the great fields of that state.

The early seventies found him in Colorado, busied with mining and also the raising of blooded stock on a large hay and stock ranch near Colorado Springs.

Here he was married on July 4, 1876, to Miss Lucy M. Hutchin of Fountain, Colorado, who survives him after almost forty-nine years of wedded life and whose tender care has done much to prolong his life through years of infirmity and invalidism resultant from a series of accidents.

In 1881 the Browns left their western home to cast in their lot with that of the Dakota farmers and for nearly forty years were prominently identified with the life of Griggs county, leaving here in the autumn of 1919 to make their home in San Diego, California. Here misfortune followed Mr. Brown and for months he was helpless with a broken knee, and only invincible will and purpose enabled him to make even a partial recovery. Since that time he has managed to get about the near environs of his home with the aid of crutches, but on the morning of April 20th, he sustained a heavy fall on cement pavement, and while his external injuries seemed to consist in nothing more serious than a broken elbow, the shock proved too great to be overcome by one of his years and a few days later he passed on into the Great Beyond.

One brother, Benjamin Brown of this city, survives him, besides a large number of nephews and nieces.

Mr. Brown was a thirty-second degree Mason and a life member of the Northern Light lodge of Cooperstown, and his funeral services were conducted by the Silver Gate Lodge of Masonic Brethren at San Diego on May 1st.

Though much of his later life a great sufferer Mr. Brown's courage, patience, fortitude and indomitable will never failed and none who knew him can forget his brave and uncomplaining struggle against severe handicaps. It was in keeping with the character of the man—quiet, unpretentious, loyal and loving. Further comment is unnecessary in a community where these good people are so well known and so highly regarded. Our friend and brother has gone the way of all the earth. His passing is as the garnering of a ripened sheaf and none could wish him back into earthly suffering and infirmity.

Sincere sympathy goes out to Mrs. Brown in the loneliness of separation from her life companion. But she sorrows not as those without hope, since life, in its essential essence is unending, and seen or unseen the spirit lives on through endless ages and happier experiences.

Joseph Buchheit Dies In Florida

Pioneer Griggs County Business Man Died April 9 at St. Petersburg, Fla.

By MRS. C. E. PETERSON
Joseph Buchheit, one of the earliest settlers in Griggs county, passed away Saturday, April 9th, in a hospital in St. Petersburg, Florida, at the age of 78 years. Death was due to bronchial pneumonia and a bad heart.

Mr. Buchheit was born on May 2, 1854, at Waterloo, Canada. From there he moved to Indiana, where he attended school, later completing his education in a college at Kitchener, Canada. Going back to Mishawauka, Indiana, he engaged in the mercantile business until the fall of 1880 when he, in company with R. C. Cooper, of Cooperstown, came to Griggs county to take up farming. They freighted their goods and chattels up from Fargo by team. In February Mr. Buchheit went to St. Cloud, and when his mother passed away he went to Mishawauka again and remained until spring before returning to his farm in Willow township. He was married in 1887.

In 1903 Mr. and Mrs. Buchheit moved into town where they had erected a beautiful residence which is still their home. Since 1916 they have also maintained a winter home in St. Petersburg, Florida, where they journeyed every winter until Mrs. Buchheit's failing health prevented travel.

Deceased was an active worker in community affairs and served faithfully on various boards and organizations. He was elected to the board of county commissioners in 1891, which position he held until 1915, with the exception of one term when O. S. Gunderson served. It was a source of great pride to Mr. Buchheit that he remained on this board until the county was able to cancel its total indebtedness. He was a partner in the general merchandise business with J. A. Knapp, Stephen Rorvig, and Ole Bakken, deceased, known as the Buchheit-Bakken Company, retiring from that firm in 1919. He is also interested in the First National Bank of Binford. Being very fond of travel, Mr. and Mrs. Buchheit visited many of the outstanding points of interest in this country.

For the past several years Mr. Buchheit was afflicted with bronchial trouble, and it was to seek relief for this malady that he left a few weeks ago for Florida. He caught a severe cold en route, however, and was taken to the hospital at St. Petersburg on March 15th, pneumonia having developed. The remains are being taken to his old home at Mishawauka, where the last services will be held on Friday, this week. Mrs. Buchheit is unable to attend the funeral due to poor health, and our heartfelt sympathy goes out to her in her sorrow. Three sisters of Mishawauka also survive.

Mr. Buchheit has passed on to his reward, another pioneer gone from our midst. We feel that the community is better for such a man having lived here. Many will be the kindly remembrances of Joseph Buchheit.

Mrs. Buchheit of Binford Is Victim of Heart Attack

Once again heart ailment claimed one of Griggs county's highly respected and early pioneers, when a sudden stroke on Wednesday noon proved fatal to Mrs. Joseph Buchheit, long-time resident of Binford. A previous stroke of several years ago, together with the effects of a broken hip had resulted in a condition which left her an invalid.

Mrs. Buchheit was born in South Bend, Indiana, April 23, 1853, and was at the time of her death 78 years of age. Following her marriage she and her husband moved to Griggs county in the early eighties and settled on a farm in the Binford community. Later they made their home in that village where Mr. Buchheit became interested in the mercantile business. In 1932 while en route to Indiana to visit relatives Mr. Buchheit passed away.

Burial services will be conducted at Mishawauka, Indiana, and the remains were shipped there this week.

MRS. E. C. BUTLER PASSED AWAY ON SATURDAY EVE

Death Follows Operation at Minneapolis Hospital on Wednesday.

FUNERAL HELD TUESDAY

Leaves Husband, Son, Mother,
Five Sisters and Three Brothers.

Cooperstown and Griggs county friends of the family were grieved beyond expression to learn of the death last Saturday evening of Mrs. E. C. Butler, at a Minneapolis hospital where she had been taken nine days previous in an attempt to avert serious consequences from a tumor with which she had been suffering for about three years. On the Wednesday preceding her death an operation was performed, which apparently was successful, but partial paralysis set in, and she passed away about seven o'clock Saturday evening.

The death of Mrs. Butler removes from the community one of its best beloved women, and her passing leaves in the hearts of many friends a sorrow as deep as that occasioned by the passing of one bound closer by family ties.

Mrs. Butler's life ended after a journey of nearly fifty-eight years. It is a path marked with deeds of kindness and cheer. Flowers, not thorns, sunshine, not shadow, did she scatter everywhere. With these she was lavish, and her life was an exemplification of neighborliness, splendid motherhood and wifehood.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon Rev. Edward Keedy of Minnetonka, former pastor, preaching a beautiful and comforting funeral sermon, extolling the life of the splendid woman who had gone beyond. Burial was made in the Cooperstown cemetery.

Mary Hagen was born on November 10, 1868, in Norway. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thor Hagen, and with her parents came to America in 1880, where they settled for a time in Mitchell county, Iowa. In 1881 the family came to Griggs county, deceased being about twelve years of age at the time. The old Hagen homestead was located in what is now Sverdrup township, and here she grew to womanhood, attended the schools and was confirmed in the Naess Lutheran church.

On January 27, 1905, she was united in marriage to E. C. Butler and for several years they made their home on the large Butler farm in Greenview township in Steele county. One son, Clarence, was born, who is now attending school in Fari-bault, Minn.

Mrs. Butler's health began to fail about three years ago, when it was discovered that she had tumor. Last October the family moved to Minneapolis to make their home for the winter, in order that the services of specialists might be available for her failing health. When her condition became worse the operation was performed in an effort to save her life, but the setting in of partial paralysis carried her away. Her last words conveyed her undying faith in the promise of a home above, and brought to a close a beautiful life. They were: "Oh, death, where is thy sting? There is no sting; for life is everlasting. All is well."

The deceased was an active member of the Presbyterian church and Northern Light Chapter of the Eastern Star. She was also active in the Sunday school and Ladies' Aid society of her church.

Besides the countless friends of the deceased, surviving her are her husband, E. C. Butler, and son, Clarence, her mother, Mrs. Thor Hagen, five sisters: Belle Winslow of Minneapolis, Annie Moodie of Van Hook, this state, Jennie Snyder of Minneapolis, Thea Smith of Williston, Ida Pitman of Cooperstown, and three brothers, Arne and Christ of Cooperstown, and Torval of Raub, this state.

On the occasion of her death a friend, Ethlyn Wightman Whittier, of Minneapolis, a novelist and author of several sacred dramas, penned the following appropriate lines:

TO MARY—

The soul is a homing pigeon
Sent from the heart of love,
To carry to earth its message—
Eternal life in the realms above.

Weary it wanders and lonely,
A stranger here below,
Learning each day the lesson
A soul is supposed to know.

Till one day its weary pinions
Are spread for the homeward flight;
Mortals weep, but the soul bird
Flies home to the realms of Light.

Benjamin B. Brown

Benjamin B. Brown was born on December 26, 1838, in Niagara county, New York, and died in Cooperstown on Tuesday morning, March 2nd. He was the last of a family of seven children, the rest having preceded him in death.

On January 1, 1870, he was married to Miss Lena Schultz of Baltimore, Maryland. The first years of their married life were spent in the oil fields of Pennsylvania, near Shamberg and Oil City. From Pennsylvania they moved to Kansas, and in 1882 they came to Griggs county, settling on a homestead four miles northeast of town, where he was actively engaged in farming as long as his health would permit.

When the Civil War broke out Mr. Brown enlisted and served over two years in the Union army. He was wounded in the Battle of Cedar Mountain, and was honorably discharged on account of disability. He was a member of the Masonic order for the past sixty years, joining in Youngstown, Pennsylvania, and transferring to Northern Light lodge at Cooperstown, where he was an honorary life member.

He is survived by four children, Lewis and Harold A., of Cooperstown, Mrs. F. H. Retzlaff of Helena, Mont., and Mrs. W. F. Shulz of Memphis, Tenn. His wife preceded him in death a few years ago.

Stroke Ends Life of Lewis Brown

Dies Week Following Stroke After Complicated With Pneumonia.

Death May 10, 1927

Universal regret was expressed when word of the passing of Lewis Brown was received in Cooperstown Tuesday afternoon. Death followed a stroke which Mr. Brown suffered a little more than a week ago, and which during the last days of his life had been further complicated by pneumonia.

Mr. Brown has been in poor health for a number of years, during which time he has suffered several strokes. Each time, however, he had recovered, though materially weakened in health. His last stroke occurred on Tuesday of last week, when his left side was affected, and he lost power of speech. Following the appearance of pneumonia there was no hope held for his recovery and he passed quietly away just before one o'clock Tuesday.

Jackson Lewis Brown was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Brown, and was born in Shamberg, Pennsylvania, on April 6, 1872. In 1882 he came with his parents to North Dakota, where the took a homestead four and one-half miles northeast of Cooperstown. During practically the balance of his life he made this place his home, assisting his parents, removing to Cooperstown in 1917, where since that time he has made his home.

In 1912 he was married to Miss Eva Duncan and to this unusually happy union have been born three boys, all living. They are: Benjamin, aged 10; Jackson, aged 7 and James aged 3. These, together with their mother, to sisters, Mrs. W. F. Schultz of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. F. H. Retzlaff of Scotts Bluff, Neb., and a brother, H. A. Brown of this city, mourn his death.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Masonic Temple, the local lodge having charge of the burial services. Dr. L. C. Cooley, Presbyterian pastor, will also take part in the services. Burial will be made in the Cooperstown cemetery.

Mr. Brown's appearance on the streets and among his friends in Cooperstown will be sorely missed. He was fortunate in the possession of an exceptional personality, a quiet and unassuming disposition and possessed friends innumerable. Few men will be missed with greater regret.

Valley City Girl In Bed 18 Months Gets Diploma With Others In Class

A smiling, cheerful 14-year-old Valley City girl received her eighth grade diploma with the rest of the June graduates, thereby marking a victory over an illness which has confined her to her bed for 18 months.

The victory, however, is not complete. Rosemary Berg is still a bed patient; still faces countless hours of inactivity. Her bed and the too-familiar surroundings of her room are the only ones she has known since January, 1944.

Daughter of Deputy Internal Revenue Collector and Mrs. Oscar Berg, Rosemary has kept cheerful throughout an illness, the severity and duration of which would put most youngsters as well as older people into a mental dungeon.

In the fall of 1943 the Valley City miss started her school year with the rest of the youngsters her age and was forced to leave school two weeks before the close of the first term, ill with rheumatic fever. The original malady has developed into inflammatory rheumatism.

Since that time Rosemary has kept up her studies, her mother obtaining her lessons from the school each week and returning the completed papers. Willing co-operators were her teachers, who made regular trips to the Berg home to conduct examinations.

Despite the fact she has seen her teachers only occasionally, Rosemary chalked up an enviable scholastic record. Her report card shows her eight-year average as

88. Final averages gave her 97 in spelling, 92 in reading, 92 in language, 81 in arithmetic and 87 in history.

Rosemary is the only girl in the family. She has three brothers, Oscar, jr., Arden and Milton. Her bedroom is just off the family dining room and she is "in" on all the family doings.

In addition to receiving her diploma, Rosemary was recently confirmed at a special bedside service.

One Time Swamp Is Site Of Arvid Benson

By RUTH FAIRBANKS

Arvid Benson chuckles when he recalls the folks who regarded him as a sucker when he bought a couple of acres on the shore of Little Cormorant.

Of course, they had good reason. To be sure there was a very good beach, a lovely view and it was quiet and it was just 38 miles to his place of business or home in Moorhead.

But it was a piece of swamp! Well, what the folks didn't know was that there were a couple of hills that belonged to a neighboring farmer and the farmer didn't want the hills.

Benson bought the hills. It didn't take too many scoops of a machine for that purpose until the hills were upchucked and settled nicely into the heretofore swamplands.

And Mr. and Mrs. Benson were off on a good start toward having a cottage at the lake.

People who know the Bensons well are of the opinion that Mr. Benson is a very lucky man whenever it comes to having anything done around the house because he has a wife with a knack for a lot of things most women don't have knacks for.

For instance, while he went about his business, it was Mrs. Benson who did all the contracting for labor. It was she who hauled the cement blocks that were used in the construction of the house.

Mrs. Benson and their daughter, Sheryl, laid all the asphalt tile in the floors throughout the cottage and did all the sanding and refinishing the walls.

Back to the tile job for a minute. This is really a little more than an ordinary tile-laying job because the Bensons were making use of some leftover tiles and that meant laying out a design so you would come out even with the dark and the light pieces.

And speaking of leftover pieces, the Bensons are probably the only folks with kitchen cabinets in multi-colors. That's because they have used ones that have been left over from jobs—there is one in yellow, one in pink, a blue and white.

The floor plan is a simple one—a 40 foot long living room across the front with a big fireplace in one end and the kitchen area in the other end, with just a counter for a divider. This is all across the front, and the bedrooms open off the living room lengthwise to the rear.

A round dining room table can be extended to take care of plenty of folks when it comes to entertaining, and there is lots of room outside for eating as well.

Mrs. Benson plans to do all company entertaining buffet style and "folks can take their trays wherever they want to, inside or out."

There's a unique arrangement between two of the bedrooms where a folding door is used and can be pushed back to throw the two rooms together if wished. Space has been conserved but there is ample closet space and

The Bensons' home is really brand new and there are many things to be completed before it's time to move in town for school.

They feel that by the purchase of the lot at a low price because it was swampy and by pitching in and doing so much of the work themselves, a summer home has been possible at a price considerably lower than otherwise. That is taking into consideration the expense of moving the hills and filling in the land.
