Cooperstown Couple Mark Golden Wedding

Cooperstown, N. line is north of ... of the old frontier between North and South Korea.

The preference is understood to have been covered in terms of negotiation placed before Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway by Washington authorities in connection with his call for truce talks with representatives of the Communist command.

Indications are that truce terms are somewhat flexible. The most important point for any negotiations is understood to be the question of observation of forces by a United Nations commission. American officials say such a watch is an absolute necessity to guard against truce violations.

The state department said Saturday that it had set up a special edition of its wireless bulletin to carry over the world "latest developments and comments" on Ridgway's armistice offer.

The bulletin, a wireless summary of world developments from the department to diplomatic missions abroad, normally does not go out on Saturdays.

The Voice of America was carrying the Ridgway statement in 45 languages, with heaviest emphasis on broadcasts to Korea and China. There was no hint of any time limit in the offer to discuss a cease-fire agreement.

The present battle line runs roughly from a base position south of the 38th parallel, north of Seoul on a slant across the parallel and then roughly eastward to Kansong on the east coast.

American officials consider this a sounder position than could be established by lineup of the forces on either side of the parallel. For one thing, it is a shorter line than the latitude parallel due to the eastward outjutting of the Yellow sea coast north of Seoul.

Plane Hits Mountain In Colorado

Fort Collins, Colo.—A United Airlines Mainliner smashed into Crystal mountain early Saturday, killing all 50 aboard.

The state patrol reported a search party reached the scene just before dark last night and found no survivors.

Everyone aboard the plane apparently was killed the moment the plane crashed, a reporter who reached the scene said.

The plane, flight 610 from San Francisco for Chicago, was making its first trip after a 10-day pilot strike.

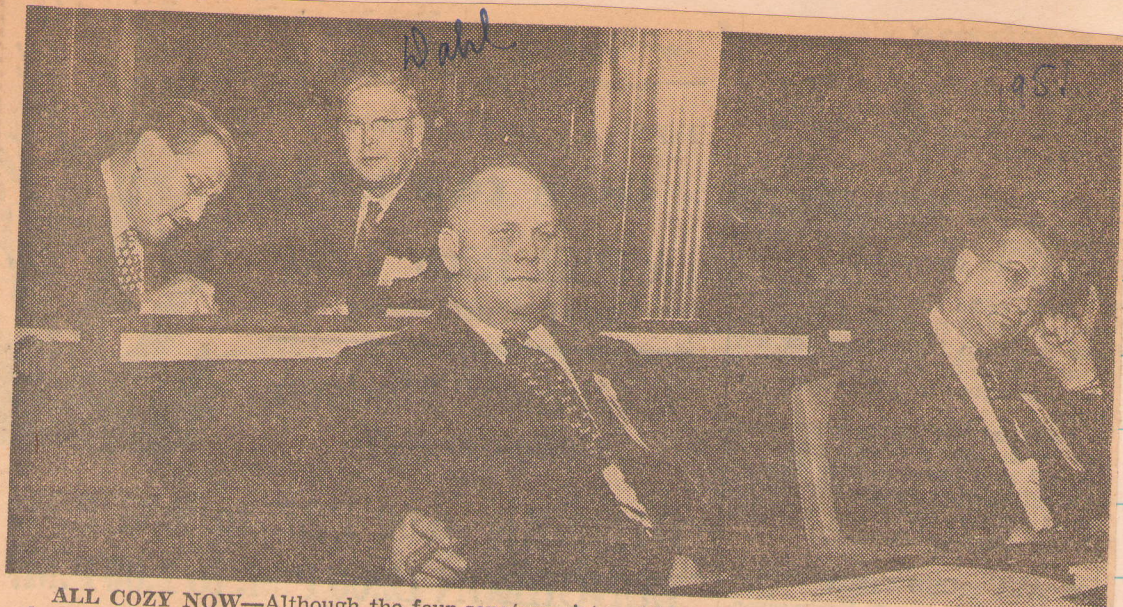

It struck a ridge 18 miles west of here, cut a long swath, skipped a low area, and broke up half a mile further on, scorching a huge patch in the pines.

Parts still were smoldering when searchers reached the site. A piece of fuselage about 20 feet long and part of the tail section were the largest chunks.

The wreckage was at an elevation of 8,600 feet. That was just 10 feet higher than when the plane made its last, routine report at 1:56 a. m. (mountain standard time) as it headed south from Cheyenne for a scheduled landing at Denver 14 minutes later.

It was 11 hours before air searchers spotted the wreckage, in the mountains northeast of Rocky Mountain national park and west of a straight line between Cheyenne and Denver.

DIED AT FARGO HOSPITAL WED.

Funeral to be Held Here at 10:30 O'clock Friday Morning.

BURIAL TO BE AT BINFORD

Cooperstown Man Had Been Confined to Hospital for Three Weeks.

The remains of William Davidson will be brought home from Fargo today. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Congregational church and the remains taken to Binford at noon for burial.

The people of Cooperstown and a large part of Griggs county suffered a great loss yesterday when life passed from the body of William Davidson, a long time resident of Cooperstown.

Death came to Mr. Davidson after about three weeks of illness, and occurred at St. Luke's hospital at Fargo at between 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and the noon hour. Mrs. Davidson and daughters, Violet, Pearl and Mable, were at the bedside when death came.

The death of Mr. Davidson is a distinct loss to the community. It is not exaggerating in the least to say that few men come to life's end with fewer enemies than Mr. Davidson had. It is not known that he had one such an enemy. He was a splendid neighbor and fellowman who was loved by all who knew him.

Mr. Davidson was taken suddenly ill three weeks ago while engaged in loading horses into a car here preparatory to a trip into Wisconsin where he planned to sell them. His trouble was quickly diagnosed as appendicitis and he was hurried to the hospital at Fargo the same day. The operation required was delayed by a slight affliction of pneumonia, which had to be cleared before an operation could be performed. The operation was had last Wednesday. Complications followed which for several days made it appear that Mr. Davidson had only a slight chance of recovering.

The Sentinel-Courier will present an obituary of the life of William Davidson next week.

The Inside Corner Former Hannaford Boy Phoenix Prep Cage Star

By CHUCK JOHNSON

A former Hannaford boy, Don Davidson, is one of the top high school basketball players in Arizona.

W. D. Sinclair of Hannaford sent clippings from the Phoenix Republic concerning Davidson.

A large two-column picture of Davidson is labeled "One of the best" and says:

"Phoenix Tech's Don Davidson is ranked as one of the finest guards in Phoenix high school play. The veteran Hornet is a dangerous scorer, good defensively and is Tech's playmaker."

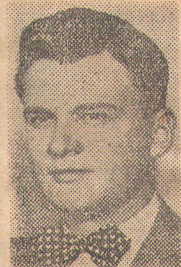

Sinclair also sent a clipping concerning Tech's 59-56 loss to Tucson. Said the story:

"It was the departure of Don Davidson that meant the ball game. Davidson not only kept the Tech squad ahead for most of the game by dumping in 20 points, but rallied the defense and fed the other scorers from his guard position."

That game, which was Tech's first defeat after three wins, was noteworthy in that 61 fouls were called, 37 on Tucson, undefeats at the time. Tucson had only one regular left in the lineup when rallied to win after a 56-all tie.

Sinclair says Don has many relatives still in the Hannaford area. He adds that all the Davidson boys were "stars in basketball in this vicinity."

Enos E. Downe Suicides After Despondency

Enos E. Downe County Citizen Dies at Home Saturday Morning

Lived Here Since 1893

Was Widely Engaged in Business Enterprises During Residence Here

Despondency brought on by a seige of melancholia from which he was suffering, on Saturday morning of last week caused the suicide of E. E. Downe, one of Cooperstown and Griggs county's best known citizens. Mr. Downe had been ill at his home here for several weeks. The news was a great shock to all of his wide acquaintance.

On Friday evening Mr. Downe had retired as usual. Saturday morning he was heard to be up and around in his room at about 8 o'clock. His wife, who occupied an adjoining room, heard his movements, unaware of the preparations he was making to take his own life. The rash deed was performed with a twelve gauge shotgun, with a cartridge from which the shot and wadding had been partially removed. Hence the discharge made little detonation. In suiciding Mr. Downe had sat in a chair, placing the gun barrel in his mouth with the butt resting against a radiator. He had then used a coat hanger to release the trigger.

Hearing an unusual noise in his room, only slight because of the partially loaded shell, Mrs. Downe, apprehensive of what had happened, rushed into the room to find him lying on the floor. Medical aid was summoned, but death had been instantaneous.

Enos Erwin Downe was born on June 11, 1870, in Westminster, near St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada. Shortly after the family moved to Exeter, Ontario, and here he spent the early days of his life. His mother died while he was an infant. He received his early education in the Canadian schools and in boyhood made his confession in Christ and united with the Methodist Episcopal church.

Completing his education he was for a time employed as cabinet-maker in the Karn Organ and piano factory at Woodstock, Ontario. In the spring of 1893 he located in Cooperstown where for a time he followed the carpenter trade. Later he entered the meat business and conducted a meat market in this city until disposing of in 1914.

In 1897 he was united in marriage to Miss Christine Hammer, who passed away in 1914. On November 21, 1918, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Clara Bothwell Markwood, who survives him. Others who are left to mourn are four brothers and two sisters: William R. Downe of Virden, Manitoba, Rev. John Wesley Downe of Exeter, Ontario, a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, Frederick H. Downe of Woodstock, Ontario, Albert E. Downe of Houston, Minn., and Misses Emily and Mary Elizabeth Downe of London, Ont. A step-daughter, Mrs. J. E. Ballanger of Lincoln, Neb., and a step-son, Eugene Markwood, also survive.

Prominent In County

Mr. Downe has long held a position of great prominence in the county, due to his large business interests. During his residence here he had accumulated a large fortune, the largest share of which had been invested in Griggs county farm land.

In the city he held the office of mayor for two terms, during which he gave a splendid administration and spent much of his time in promoting the city's interests. He was liberal in his support of the local Presbyterian church, was a member of the local Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders, the Cooperstown Commercial club and was instrumental in organizing a Kiwanis club several years ago.

Funeral Tuesday

Funeral services, which were largely attended, were held from the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Dr. LeRoy C. Cooley preached the funeral sermon. Musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. O. M. Jenson, who sang two solos, and also songs by a men's quartet. Mrs. S. J. Quam played the accompaniment, with Geraldine Stringer at the organ. Pall bearers were Theo. Marquardt, O. J. Thompson, W. P. Hammer, H. G. Hammer, A. B. Detwiller and J. W. Sanders, the latter of Killarney, Manitoba, an old school mate of the deceased. Burial was made in the Cooperstown cemetery.

HENRY DAHL HAD FINALLY TO GIVE UP LOSING FIGHT

Senior Class of High School
Attends Funeral Yesterday in Body.

MRS. F. SCHLISS DEAD

Mrs. George Paintner, Sr., Passes to Her Reward at Revere Home.

Henry Arnold Dahl, eighteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dahl of Romness township, and a senior in Cooperstown high school, passed away at his home at eleven o'clock Saturday night.

The death causes much pain, not alone on the part of his parents, brothers and sisters, but on the part of a great body of school and neighborhood friends who are going to miss this fine young man exceedingly.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Romness Methodist church, Rev. Gilbertson of McVile officiating. The senior class of the Cooperstown high school attended the funeral in a body. The attendance and mourning at the funeral was evidence of the very high esteem in which Henry Dahl was held.

Death followed an illness running over two weeks, an illness contracted from drinking water used while with a threshing crew. Influenza, complicated with typhoid fever, was a complication from which the young man had slight chance of recovery. However, he was last week showing signs of recovery when symptoms of perforation of the bowels was discovered. A surgeon was brought from Valley City to perform an operation, which was the only chance left to save the life of the boy. But the operation proved of no avail, Henry breathing his last Saturday night.

Henry Arnold Dahl was born on February 7, 1904, in Romness township, having been at the time of his death a life-long resident there. He was baptized by Rev. P. M. Hauge on March 13, 1904, and was confirmed by Rev. Korsmo on September 14, 1919.

Deceased finished the grade school in Romness township in the spring of 1919, and in the fall of that same year became a student of Cooperstown high school, from which this year he would have graduated. Henry is remembered by his school mates and faculty members as a mighty fine young man and an excellent student.

In addition to his mother and father, Henry is survived by three brothers, August, Helmer and John, and two sisters, Agnes and Esther. All were present at the funeral yesterday excepting August, who is suffering an illness contracted in the same manner as that of his departed brother.

The whole community is united in its sincerest nature of sympathy for the sorrowing father, mother, brothers and sisters.

Lt. Gov. Dahl Opposes Sen. Day's

By JOHN D. PAULSON
Political Editor, The Fargo Forum

State Sen. Carroll Day of Grand Forks learned yesterday that not everybody is in agreement with his idea of how the state senate should be organized.

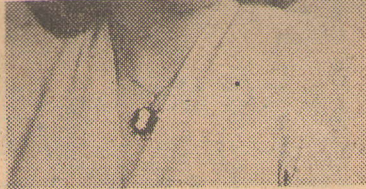

Senator Day has proposed that a majority group of Republicans be formed without relation to the two factions of the party, the Republican Organizing Committee and the Nonpartisan league.

Lt. Gov. C. P. Dahl, who last month was elected to his old seat in the senate from Griggs-Steele district, said yesterday that he believed Day had proposed a "horse-trading policy of who gets what" in an effort to organize the senate.

Dahl's name has been mentioned as a possible ROC majority floorleader for the coming session, providing the ROC gets the 25 votes needed.

 enough to square dance clap their hands and swing out to fast-

 As a result of many requests for square dancing instruction, the Fargo YWCA organized the club which held its first meeting on Dec. 10. Since that time, the organization has been expanding with "old time" dance enthusiasts.

 Due to the limited space, membership is restricted but there are still openings for persons interested, according to Mrs. Rupert Bauck, program director at the YWCA.
 Square dance clubbers are learning a lingo which includes, "Make your feet go wickety wack," "All jump up with a hoop and a hollar" or "Promenade home, Indian style. Lady in the lead, single file."
 The biggest trouble members have is following the call "just al-

 keep going till you meet your partner." Many times, partners have difficulty finding each other in the confusion which results from going to the right instead of the left or visa versa. More than one person has taken a rather ungraceful spill while trying to curtsy at the end of the dance, also, reports Mrs.
 Bauck.

The dancing sessions last from 8:30 to 10 and often include folk dances such as the "Texas Polka."
 August Aamodt, NDAC junior, is square dance caller, keeps the phonograph going, sings out the calls, makes with the jokes and gives instructions almost simultaneously.

If interest in the square dancing club continues, the group will start performing in costumes as regular folk dance groups, do, says Mrs.
 Bauck. Persons wishing to enroll in the club may either call Mrs.
 Bauck or attended the next meeting on Jan. 20 in the YWCA.

his idea of how the state senate should be organized.

Senator Day has proposed that a majority group of Republicans be formed without relation to the two factions of the party, the Republican Organizing Committee and the Nonpartisan league.

Dahl

Lt. Gov. C. P. Dahl, who last month was elected to his old seat in the senate from Griggs-Steele district, said yesterday that he believed Day had proposed a "horse-trading policy of who gets what" in an effort to organize the senate.

Dahl's name has been mentioned as a possible ROC majority floorleader for the coming session — providing the ROC gets the 25 votes needed to set up a majority. Without the vote of Senator Day, the faction would be one vote short.

Dahl, as lieutenant governor, has been presiding officer of the senate for the last three sessions. The ROC has been in control each session, but in 1949 the faction had the bare majority of 25 votes, including Senator Day's.

"Why," demanded Dahl, "should Senator Day be taken seriously in his appeal to organize the senate on a straight Republican basis?"

Dahl said he is in full agreement with Day regarding a united GOP for North Dakota, but he said that "it will not be based on a matter of what the senator says, 'who gets what' when the legislature convenes."

Dahl contended unification will be accomplished by the leaders and policy makers of the ROC and the NPL getting together and settling their differences.

Dahl also criticized Day's personal political record. "There is nothing to indicate that the senator ever gave aid or support to the NPL or ROC with the Republican party, or to the Republican party itself," he declared. "He has always maintained himself to be an independent and has used the

Dahl—Griggs, Steele

As lieutenant governor during the Aandahl administration, Sen. C. P. Dahl of Cooperstown sat as presiding officer of the senate during the last session. This year he is listed among the "new" senators, but because of previous service can hardly be classified as such in a literal sense.

Dahl

Griggs county since 1912, Senator Dahl was born at York, Wis., March 22, 1892. Except for a year spent in Montana, he has maintained his home in the Griggs area continuously since moving from Wisconsin, and has farming interests in the Jessie area. He is with the ROC.

Senator Dahl is married and has two sons, Phillip, who will be graduated from Northwestern medical school at Chicago this spring and Robert, sophomore at Cooperstown high school, and a daughter, Mrs. William J. Daner of South Bend, Ind. Her husband is a law student at Notre Dame.

Lt. Gov. C. P. Dahl Emerges From Primary As Major Governorship Prospect For '56

By GIFFORD HERRON

Northwest Editor, The Fargo Forum

Results of the primary election had just started rolling in fairly heavily on the evening of June 29 when a couple of Fargo fellows who keep fairly close tab on North Dakota political activities commented:

"Look at that man C. P. Dahl. They're going to have to let him run for something more than lieutenant governor two years from now."

These observers were watching the tabulation of the vote on Dahl, incumbent Republican Organizing Committee lieutenant governor, and his Nonpartisan League opponent, Donnell Haugen, a member of the North Dakota House from McLean County for a number of sessions.

Dahl got off to an early lead and it kept increasing until the official state canvass of the primary results showed he had won the Republican nomination by 34,704 votes, which virtually assures him a fifth term as lieutenant governor. He will oppose Dr. S. B. Hocking of Devils Lake, the Democratic nominee, in the November general election.

The remarks of those Fargo observers have been echoed many times since the primary.

There have been quite a few within the ROC, especially among the younger element, who have been at odds with Dahl and have expressed disfavor with the Milton Rue-J. B. Bridston-Dahl leadership. But nevertheless they respect the vote-getting ability of the veteran campaigner from Cooperstown.

Dahl's 34,704 margin in defeating Haugen 85,799 to 51,095 was his largest in the five times he has won the nomination for lieutenant governor. And it came when his running mate for governor, Norman Brundsdale, chalked up a lead of only 11,006 to win the nomination over Wallace Warner of the League.

Dahl was elected lieutenant governor the first time in 1944 and he won the nomination that year over Leaguer Oscar W. Hagen by only 234 votes. In 1946, he beat Ray Schnell of Dickinson by 26,245 for the nomination and in 1948 he had a lead of 22,754 over Gerald C. Olson, the NPL candidate.

In 1950, Dahl was not a candidate for lieutenant governor but was elected to the state Senate from Griggs-Steele. Schnell was elected lieutenant governor in 1950. Dahl took on Schnell in the 1952 primary and won the nomination by 1,379.

Dahl has lost only one state wide election, that for the secretary of state nomination in 1942 when Leaguer Herman Thorson beat him by only 634 votes. That came after he had been elected in 1938 to a four-year term in the state Senate.

Several times in pre-convention conversation, Dahl's name has been tossed about as a possible endorsee for governor or Congress.

One time in particular was prior to the 1950 ROC convention. Dahl was being talked of for governor after Fred G. Aandahl had served three terms. However, Norman Brundsdale got the endorsement and Aandahl was endorsed for Congress, both being nominated and elected.

But now, say the political followers of Dahl, "C. P.'s vote-getting ability should be recognized with an endorsement for a higher office."

It's known, too, that C. P. wouldn't object to an endorsement for governor.

Governor Brundsdale has made it completely clear that he will step aside in 1956, assuming he wins against Con Bymers, the Democratic nominee, in November.

As of now, Dahl, with his past record, seems to be the most likely prospect to follow Brundsdale.

But a lot of things can happen in North Dakota politics in two years.

And here enters a question of what's going to happen to the Republican unity move in North Dakota. Could it possibly mean Dahl's not being boosted up the political ladder?

Files show that in October 1952, Dahl issued a statement in which he advocated a united Republican party in North Dakota. At that time Dahl, who was active in the der if Dahl would be as effective a vote-getter in the governor or Congress spot as he has been for lieutenant governor.

They point at some others who have been rather consistent winners for one state office but who couldn't win when they shifted to another spot on the ticket.

That works both ways, as a check of the record shows.

Otto Krueger, for example, moved around on the ticket and has been a consistent winner. He was elected state treasurer in 1944. He was later appointed by Governor Aandahl as insurance commissioner to succeed Oscar Erickson, Leaguer, who died in office. Krueger was elected insurance commissioner in 1946 and 1948.

He wasn't a candidate again until 1952, when he received the ROC endorsement for Congress, and defeated Orris Nordhogen by some 1,900 votes for the nomination and then winning in the fall. He beat Nordhogen for the nomination in the June primary this year by an even larger margin.

By persistence, Langer has proven, too, that he could be elected by shifting around on the ticket. He was elected attorney general in 1916, re-elected in 1918, beaten for governor in 1920, took an eight-year vacation from politics and was beaten for attorney general in 1928, named governor in 1932, re-elected in 1934 only to lose office after his tiff with the federal government, elected governor in the independent column in 1936, beaten for the U. S. Senate in 1938 but victorious in 1940, 1946 and 1952.

The late William Lemke kind of proved both sides. He was elected attorney general in 1920, but was recalled along with Gov. Lynn J. Frazier. He was beaten in 1922 for governor and then took a 10-year recess from politics. He was elected to Congress in 1932 and was a consistent winner every two years. But in 1940 he resigned the nomination for Congress to unsuccessfully oppose Langer for the Senate. In 1942 he returned to Congress and was re-elected each two years until his death in May of 1950 just as he was beginning to campaign for renomination to Congress.

Aandahl, now assistant secretary of the interior, was elected governor in 1944, 1946 and 1948, then was named to Congress. But in 1952, he took on Langer for the Senate and was defeated soundly for the nomination.
