

the bank's doors.

The home talent play, "When Smith Stepped Out," drew a packed house last Friday evening, and all who attended were very well pleased with the production. The cast was well chosen and each character impersonated his and her role admirably. After all expense has been deducted, there will be a surplus of about $100. This, with the proceeds of the other play, will practically pay for the uniforms of the baseball team.

A notice received from the Board