

winter.—Anderson's Pharmacy.

Hannaford Enterprise: Herman Michaelis was in town on business matters last Wednesday, bringing in a number of turkeys which were shipped that day. He reports that he saw a gopher while on his way to town that day, something unusual for this time of year. The weather has been and still continues so unseasonably mild, that many things of an unusual nature are frequently observed. As for instance we were shown the other day a dandelion in full bloom. Things like that are out of the ordinary for North Dakota in mid-November.
