THE MARKETS.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL ST. PAUL WHEAT-The market has been quiet and stag-mant so far as demand was concerned. Nothing better could have been expected, with all the flour imarkets duil and the general uncertainties of the future. There is now no incentive to speculation, either on the bull or bear side, sufficient in tenacity to make fluctuations or permausency of high or low prices. The tendency has been downward, and declines have ensued during the week, but holders have been strong, even when obliged by the inevitable to submit to lower prices. Their feeling scened to be that as soon as reliable statistics can be had, there will be revealed crop shortage that will hereafter affect values. In the wheat movement, and things are ouly drifting. On Tuesday the market was duil, and prices were nom-inal at the following: No. 1 hard, $1.09; Septem-ber, $1.10; year, $1.05; No. 2 hard, suot, $1,05; No. 2, 98c; all asked. All that can be done is to wait, feeling that one man's guess is as good as another man's, and that the prophecies of all may not pan out according to the exact condition of things. Hocepts for the week have been light. The demand has been limited, consumers confining the inquiry was limited, while holders have been destrous of selling, influenced by the declines in other markets. Receipts for the week were mod-erate, but ample tor the demand. Closing prices: No. 2, 48c asked; year, 45c bid; No. 3, 46c askot: rejected, 44c asket. Salet 1 car No. 3, 40c, f. 0. b.
