THE COURIER. FIRST-CLASS,

FRIDAY, NOV. 9, 1883.

It is said that the Northern Pacific has reduced expenses enough the past few days to save $300,000 per month.

There is every indication that North Dakota is to have a railroad boom next H. C. FITCH, year unparalleled in the history of the Northwest.

If the highly civilized people of Massachusetts are through with their election it is to be hoped they will send out a burial squad and have the bones, skulls. intestines and other interesting relics that they have been shying at each other for some weeks decently interred. It doesn't take much to start a pestilence.

The heavy migration from Manitoba to Dakota is attributed partially to the fact that settlers on this side of the line get much better prices for their grain. The farmer in Manitoba hauls his product thirty or forty miles to his shipping point and gets nineteen cents a bushel for oats and sixty for wheat, while his neighbor on this side of the line hauls the same distance and gets from twenty to forty cents more per bushel. This is the way it is stated.

General Manager Haupt, of the Northern Pacific railroad, resigned his position the 1st of November, and the duties of general manager are temporarily performed by Vice-President Oakes. Mr. Haupt gives as the reason of his resigning that the policy of radical retrench tied his hands, and prevented a proper running of the road. Four hundred and sixty men were recently discharged from the shops at Brainerd, and sweeping reductions in force have been made at all his office force had been cut down to a and under the existing circumstances he preferred to leave the services of the company.

North Dakota's New Bishop.

Rev. William B. Walker, bishop of North Dakota, was born in New York City in 1840, and at the age of twenty-one years was ordained a minister of the Episcopal church. He entered Trinity school at an early age, and graduated; from there he entered Columbia college in 1855. During vacation he worked in a retail store in New York as a salesman in order to procure money to defray his expenses at the college and get an insight into business methods. He remained four years in college, and after graduated and entered the ministry. He at once received an appointment as rector of Calvary chapel, which was then a small mission church. His vigorous reforms in its management soon attracted attention, and the congregation gradually increased in numbers. He established a mission school, a reading room and an industrial school for the children of the poor. He finally sold the old chapel building, and erected a church at a cost of $160,000. One feature of his church was the establishment of a business men of his congregation and disness room in it, where he met the business men of his congregation and dis-cussed their business affairs with them. Bishop Walker has never married; and will enter upon his new field in a few weeks, probably taking up his headquar-
