FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1883.

Michigan, Vermont and New Hampshire have introduced scientific temperance education into their public schools. This is certainly a move in the right

'Iahone was burned in effigy at Bellfield, Va., an old goose being utilized to represent the boss. The negroes took as active a part in the proceedings as the whites, and there was roaring fun and merriment the whole evening.

Women who possess "manly" aspirations are rejoicing over a victory for the suffragists in Washington Territory A bill has passed the legislature of that territory, conferring the rights of suffrage on women, and the governor will sign it.

Reports from Iowa show that the masses of farmers are in a bad fix. Many of them have stock, but no corn to carry them through the winter. If they had a lot of Dakota hay, they could get through without corn. Dakota is a pretty good country after all.

Mr. Villard has at last been forced to make some explanation of that Northern Pacific excursion. He says the entire cost of the excursion did not exceed $75,000, and that it was paid out of the funds of the land department, in whose interest it was organized "for advertising purposes."

Advice to a Young Man.

And then remember, my son, you have to work. Whether you handle a pick or a pen, a wheelbarrow or a set of books, digging ditches or editing a paper, wringing an auction bell or writing funny things, you must work. If you look around, son, you will see the men who are most able to live the rest of their days without work are the men who days without work are the men who work the hardest. Don't be afraid of killing yourself with over-work, so. It is beyond your power to do that, on the sunny side of thirty. They die sometimes, but it's because they quit work at 6 P. M. and don't get home until 2 A. M. It's the interval that kills, my son. The work gives you an appetite for your din-ner, it lends solidity to your slumbers, it gives you a perfect and grateful appre-ciation of a holiday. There are young men who do not work, my son; but the world is not proud of them. It does not know their given names, even, it simply world is not proud of them. It does not know their given names, even; it simply speaks of them as old so-and-so's boys. Nobody likes them; the great busy world doesn't know that they are there. So find out what you want to be and do, my son, and take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are the less deviltry you are apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays, and better will the world be satisfied with you.—Burdette.
