COOPERSTOWN, GRIGGS CO., DAY

The total net revenues of the national government for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June was $398,287,581 a decrease of $5,237,688 from the receipts of the year preceding.

In the United States there 64,698 clergymen and 64,137 lawyers—a majority of 561 clergymen. There are 86,671 physicians, being 22,535 more doctors than lawyers-but such doctors, and such lawvers-some of them!

The vote on the proposition to abolish convict contract labor from the New York state prisons, gives a majority of over 235,000 in favor of the proposition. All the aristocratic influence of the state was against the proposition, including Harper's Weekly, but the mechanics and workingmen carried it through.

Gen. Hazen, chief of the weather bureau, wants more money-and so do the chiefs of all the other bureaux in Washington-and they also want enlarged powers-and so do almost every other official. But our government is one of limited powers, from the president down, and there doesn't seem to be any better sys:em to stick to, anywhere.

Florida's winter beom has begun by a rush of people from the north. The flight of the tender feet never began so early and in such volume as this year. Many portions of the state are being built up very fast. Orange growers and vegetable farms are in great demand, and altogether the news is very rosy for Florida. A very large and fine crop of delicious fruit is said to be assured.

The last, probably the very last, of the revolutionary centennials is approaching. It is evacuation day in New York, the 25th of November, when the British troops, the remnant of the armies sent to reduce the revolted colonies to submission, abandoned the city and embarked for Halifax. Thus the last token of royal authority vanished from our country, and the people of the United States were left to the actual enjoyment of their independence. The day will be celebrated with much pomp.

The statistics of the Postal Union put the United States high on the roll of intelligence. In every respect, on which a comparison is made, we rank either first or second. In the number of post offices we equal almost all the rest of the postal union put together. Against our 44,512, Great Britain, the next on the list, has but 14,918. We use more postal cards than any other nation, and distribute twice as many newspapers. Great Britain writes the most letters, and Germany pays the most for its mails. Great Britain, Germany and France make money out of their postal system.

An eminent statesman has computed that in two centuries all the gold coin of yards. He had estimated the amount of $274,596; surplus earnings, $1,458,888, a decrease of $450,835. The decrease in the tests, which of course is buried when the the country will be buried in the graveperson dies. This calculation is fair Denver and also to decrease in the Colorado enough to assume in all probability, but business. for the fact that no account is taken of the vast amount of new gold dug; from the earth and rocks. On the other hand no mention is made of the amount annually coined or use I for plate, ornaments, etc. The filling in teeth is a small proportion of the gold of the world, yet it is sufficient in the aggregate to startle those who have not given a thought to the subject.

The discovery of coal near the line of the Northern Pacific railroad exerts an important influence upon matters connected with that great enterprise. The new coal is found at Bull Mountain, near Helena, Montana. Four tons of this fuel are found to be equal in value as a steam producer, to three tons of Pittsburg coal. The difference in favor of the latter is more than made up in the difference in cost of transportation in fayor of the Montana fuel. The question of fuel is one of the most troublesome matters that confront not only the railroads but the people of the far west where wood is scarce and coal still more scarce or when existing, possessed of little value for steam-making or household

A very painful and suggestive incident occurred the other day in the course of a school election in Lansingburg in this state, says the New York Times. The votes of several women were challenged on the ground that they were non-residents who had been brought from Troy for the express purpose of casting fraudulent votes. This is painful since it shows that, instead of exerting the purifying influence which we have been told women would exercise at the polls, women have been quick to learn that worst of political frauds, the colonization of fraudulent voters. It is moreover, very suggestive, since it calls attention to a method of fraud which women could practice with eminent success were they to be given the right of voting at all elections.

EPITOME OF THE NEWS.

Washington Gossip.

The annual report of Admiral Porter is notable for its criticism of the new armored steel cruisers, designed by the naval advis-ory board, as being deficient in canvas, and so constructed as not to work under sail. This in time of war would be a satal defect, as all coaling stations would be closed against the United States, and in time of peace naval vessels should cruise under sail for the sake of economy. The admiral be-lieves in the immediate construction of a large number of swift vessels with powerful guns and thinks we could build twenty large ships in two years. steel cruisers, designed by the naval advisships in two years.

Excitement has been caused at the war office by official dispatches from Egypt office by official dispatches from Egypt stating that there is good ground to fear that Hicks Pasha has been either captured or slain by the forces of the False prophet. The news from the Soudan shows that the position of Hicks Pasha and his forces, when last any authentic information was received, was most desperate, and that unless he could either be soon relieved by the troops of Gen. Wood or retreat rapidly he must soon be overwhelmed and suffer either capture or destruction.

The president has been calling for a good deal of information from the departments the past week for use in preparing hiz message, and he has been looking especially into the operation of the tariff as medified at the last session. It is probable that it will suggest some tariff legislation at this session in order to reduce the enormous surplus which now piles up in the treasury.

Secretary Teller sustains the decision of the commissioners of the land office in refusing permission to certain citizens of Leadville to bring suit in the name of the United States to vacate placer mineral patents issued to Stevens, Lieter and others, which are typical cases, titles upon which a great part of the land in Leadville is held.

Ex-Senator George E. Spencer, of Alabams, has been arrested at Austin, Nev., by order of Attorney General Brewster for contempt of court in not appearing in the Star route cises. Spencer denies cluding officers, and has left with two deputy marshalls for Washington.

Justice Gray, although a bachelor, keeps house in Washington, with a full retinue of servants brought on from Massachusetts. 4 The United States pays costs and discontinues its suit against Funk, the defaulting star route contractor.

A Proposed National Park.

Thursday Mr. W. W. Corcoran, ex-Chief Justice Strong and ex-Commissioner Dent waited upon the District commissioners to describe the project (started in 1879 by Capt. R. L. Hoxie) of utilizing the valley of Rock creek for a grand national park, and to urge the com-missioners to include in their recommendation missioners to include in their recommendation to congress this plan, and to sek for an appropriation sufficient to purchase the land in this valley, including the adjacent hillsides, with the forests, taking in the highland of said creek, which it is proposed to dam at Shoemaker's mill, making a lake of some 2,000 acres, 145 feet above the level of the Potomac river, reaching back to above the District line, the shores to be graded and a wide and good roadway to surround it. The surrounding land necessary to be purchased would be about 3,000 acres, generally rocky, and on mill-sides which would not cost the government above half a million. The average price is less than $100 per acre. The ornamentation could be added from time to time by congress, when it might be deemed expedient. The advantages were discussed by this committee and the commissioners replied to the committee that before any action was taken by them they would premissioners replied to the committee that before any action was taken by them they would pre-fer that they (the committee) express their views in writing.

vations of the Signal Service observers of their locality. The reason of the disord is plain, viz., the perturbing action of the heat which the city emits; and, however gratifying it may be to the outsider to find himself superior to the government observers, it is very little credit to the Weather Bureau that this par-ticular source of error was not long since recognized and avoided. The remarks of Prof. Whitney on this subject, as ap-plied to observations made at London, are pertinent and convincing. He says: "It is a well known fact that cities are considerably warmer than the more thinly inhabited country otherwise, un-der similar climatic conditions. Statis tics prove that this is true; and there would be no doubt that such would be the effect of an immediate aggregation the effect of an immediate aggregation of population within a limited space, even if there were no statistics bearing on this question. Many millions of tons of coal are burned in and about big cities during every year, and the whole mass of brick of which the city is built is heated during the entire winter, and more or less in the summer, many degrees above the natural temperature. There can be no question that condi-tions such as here indicated vitiate all observations made in or near large cities with a view to the determination of any possible secular variation of the temper-

Cities Warmer Than the Country.

Those who happen to live at a little distance from the heart of the city must frequently have noticed a lack of accord between readings of their own standard thermometors and the published obser-
