A HUNTER'S STORY.

How he was Overcome and the Way by Which he was Finally Saved. Correspondence Spirit of the Times.

An unusual adventure which recently occurred to your correspondent while hunting at Brookmere in this state is so imely and contains so much that can be made valuable to all readers, that I ven ure to reproduce it entire: The day was a most inclement one and the snow quite deep. Rabbit tracks were plentiful, but they principally led in the direction of a large swamp, in which the rabbits could run without difficulty, but where the hunter constantly broke through the thin ice, sinking into the half-frozen mire to his knees. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the writer had perserved, although a very small bag of game was the result. While tramping about through a particularly malarial portion of the swamp, a middle aged man suddenly came into view, carrying a muzzle loading shot gun and completely loaded down with game of the finest description. Natural curiosity, aside from the involuntary envy that instinctively arose, prompted the writer to enter into conversation with the man, with the following result:

"You've had fine success, where did you get all that game?"

"It's pretty rough hunting in these parts, especially when a man goes up to his waist every other step."

"Yes, it's not very pleasant, but I am used to it's and don't mind it." ficulty, but where the hunter constantly

"Yes, it's not very pleasant, but I am used to it and don't mind it."

"How long have you hunted hereabouts."

"Why, bless you, I have lived here most of my life and hunted up to ten years ago every year."

"How does it happen you omitted the last ten years?"

"Because I was scarcely able to move Because I was scarcely able to move, much less hunt." 'I don't understand you?" "I don't understand you?"

"Well, you see, about ten years ago, after I had been tramping around all day in this same swamp, I felt quite a pain in my ankle. I didn't mind it very much, but it kept troubling me for a day or two, and I could see it kept increasing. The next thing I knew, I felt the same kind of a pain in my shoulder and I found it pained me to move my arm. This thing pained me to move my arm. This thing kept going on and increasing, and though I tried to shake off the feeling and make myself think it was only a little temporary trouble, I found that it did not go. Shortly after this my joints began to ache at the knees and I finally became so bad that I had to remain in the house most "And did you trace all this to the fact that you had hunted so much in this

"No. I didn't know what to lay it to but I knew that I was in misery. My joints swelled until it seemed as though all the flesh I had left was bunched at the joints; my fingers crooked in every way and some of them became double-interest. In most order is interest, and the seemed of the most order is interest. way and some of them became doublejointed. In act, every joint in my body seemed to vie with the others to see which could become the largest and cause me the greatest suffering. In this way several years passed on, during which time I was pretty nearly helpless.
I became so nervous and sensitive that I would sit bolstered up in the chair I would sit bolstered up in the chair and call people that entered the room not to come near me, or even touch my chair. While all this was going on, I felt an awful burning heat and fever, with occasional chills running all over my body, but especially along my back and through my shoulders. Then again my blood seemed to be boiling and my brain to be on fire."

"Didn't you try to prevent all this egony?"

"Try, I should think I did try. I tried every doctor that came within my reach and all the proprietary medicines I could hear of. I used washes and linimout."

COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—The irritation which induces coughing immediately relieved by use of "Brown's Bronchial Troaches." Sold only in boxes. hear of. I used washes and liniments enough to last me for all time, but the only relief I received was by injections of morphine."

"Well, you talk in a very strange manner for a man, who has tramped around on a day like this and in a swamp like this. How in the world do you dare do it?"

"Because I am completely well and sound as a dollar. It may seem strange, but it is true that I was entirely cured; the rheumatism all driven out of my blood; my joint reduced to their natural size and my strength made as great as ever before, by means of that great and simple remedy, Warner's Safe Rheu-matic Cure, which I believe saved my life."

"And so you now have no fear of rheu-"Why, no. Even if it should come on, I can easily get rid of it by using the same remedy."

The writer turned to leave, as it wa growing dark, but before I had reached the city precisely the same symptoms I had just heard described came upon me with great violence. Impressed with the hunters' story, I tried the same remedy, and within twenty-four hours all pain and inflamation had disapeared. If any reader is suffering from any manner of rheumatic or neuralgic troubles and desires relief let him by a'll means try this same great remedy. And if any readers doubt the truth of the above incidents or its statements let them write to A. A. Coates, Brookmore, N. Y., who was the man with whom the writer conversed and convince themselves of its truth or Pulmonary Consumption.

Dear Sir:—I received the trial bottle of your White Wine of Tar Syrup which you sent to my address. My wife has been troubled with a lung disease for more than eighteen years, and was pronounced last January in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption. She commenced taking your valuable medicine and received relief at once. She has used three bottles since and is now using the fourth, and her health is better than for many years. We cheerfully recommend it to all afflicted with any trouble of the throat or lungs. We now get our medicine through John Pyrter, our merchant at this place.

Yours Respectfully, Rev. J. B. Fly. Brookline Station, Mo. Susan E. Fly.

My father had an eating cancer for several years, which had eaten away his under lip and the inside of his check, down to the bottom of his gums. We got some of Swift's Specific and gave him, and the effect has been wonderful—almost miraculous. The sores are all healed, and he is perfectly well. Every one said it was only a question of time about his death, and his cure has created the greatest excitement in this part of the country.

SKIN HUMOR.

My baby six months old broke out with some kind of skin humor, and after being treated five months by my family physician, was given up to die. The druggist recommended Swift's Specific, and the effect was as gratifying as it was miraculous. My child soon got well, all traces of the disease is gone, and he is as fat as a pig.
