THOMPSON'S FALLS, which, according to the Frontier Index, is placed on the back of a mountain which was bent purpose, is said to be about the hardest town on the line. It comes to the front with signs of a general Indian uprising, and all because of a little game of poker in which an Indian was shot in the back by another gambler for "unfairness." If this method of evening up on "unfairness" spreads among the whites, it is feared the country will become depopulated.

THE Chicago Herald says that John
A. Logan is the only presidential candidate whom the great republican mud batteries are not playing on. It is probably because he is considered out of range. Let him come within the glare of public attention by exhibiting some strength, and he will think old Vesuvius has been turned upside down, like an ink bottle, on him. There is more to publish a buggy advertisement with chromo attachment. He will give us a sixty dollar buggy for forty dollars cash and twenty dollars worth of advertising, or we presume for forty dollars and throw the advertising off. We have always wanted a genuine Cincinnati buggy —one all wool and a yard wide, glued together and dipped in a paint pot—to match a tired horse with a weak back that we traded a dog for. We want the tout ensemble to correspond, and a buggy that won't in its proud strength throw any reflections on the horse. A man in Chicago bought one of these buggies to match a high-strung 2:30 horse and sent his mother-in-law out on.

ber that draws the White House in the Chicago lottery. Mr. Blaine has invested in a large number of tickets, as has also Arthur. Logan has purchased to the extent of his ability, and Edmunds' friends have endeavored to give the old man a chance. In response to the Blaine charge of corruption, made through William Walter Phelps, Mr. Edmunds has invited the gentleman to examine his books, vouchers, memoranda, etc., and just wallow in the damning evidence that would naturally be Chicago lottery. Mr. Blaine has investda, etc., and just wallow in the damning evidence that would naturally be found therein. Fortunately the people have enough confidence in the gentleman from Vermont to render his denial unnecessary. His corruption consisted in the purchase of certain railroad bonds as an investment long after congressional legislation had ceased, in respect to that certain railroad. As to his being a cold-blooded, hard-headed New Englander, it is feared that the charge is true. Although there is no doubt that the first hallot at Chicago Mr. Ed

By his first great loss, when he was cinched in Chicago wheat, Dakota farmers made money—his "corner" gave us ers made money—his "corner" gave us office the highest price for our chief product that we have ever known. His wealth was accumulated by the contributions of the poor. He produced nothing. He used his wits to obtain the productions of others. It is true he was not acquainted with his victims, and never saw their miseries, but he robbed them as cheerfully as if they were his personal friends. He is young, healthy and ablebodied, and we advise him to take Horace Greely's advice and secure a good claim in Griggs county while there is yet time, and go to raising the golden grain.
