Ye editor is at Grand Forks.

Nels E. Nelson says that if the person who took his Whitewater wagon does not return it immedlately, he will send the sheriff out with a warrant and see if there is any virtue in justice court.

Large flocks of wild geese were fiving over town Tuesday.

Quite an interesting law suit is on the tapis and is likely to be brought up at any time. Some short time ago the genial sheriff seized a thresh-ing engine on a second mortgage held by business men in town and the engine was brought to town and padlocked by Attorney Jacobson. While the attorney was away the other day Bartlett and Glass "busted" the lock and hauled away the en gine on a first mortgage and sold it. The ques tion now arises: Who owns the engine?

A stiff gale was blowing Monday, indicating that windy Wiggins was abroad somewhere.

Miss Maud Daie, sister of Mrs. J. A. Lawrence, arrived in Cooperstown on Monday evening's train, to visit for a short time with Miss May

Mrs. E. J. Pratt, accompanied by little Elliott Frost, departed on Tuesday morning for Maine, Minnesota, where they will visit with Mrs. Pratt's brother for a short time, and will then go to their home in the east. Mrs. Pratt has won many friends in Cooperstown during her sojourn among us, who sincerely regret her departure She does not intend to forget Cooperstown entirely and will have the Couries sent after her every week to keep her posted.

H. P. Pickett returned Monday night from St. Paul, where he had been to receive medical advice in regard to his lame foot. He feels somewhat encouraged and hopes in a few weeks to be as nimble and sprightly as in the days of yore.

The friends of Rev. Geo. B. Frost will be glad to learn that he is slowly, but surely, on the road to recovery.

S. J. Ouren called in and left the money for a two years Courier subscription, Friday. We guarantee that Mr. Ouren will not only try to pay his debts, but pay them. Any man with a good credit is well fixed. He reports a fair crop-16 bushels to the acre.

The Northern Pacific pay car fetched a smile on the faces of the b'hoys this week

Sheriff Michaels, who has been officiating as engineer, fireman and general manager of a threshing crew, says he can do more work than any two men in town, for money, chalk or mar-

"Now is the accepted time." What we mean by this remark is: That prairie fires will soon be running in every direction, and it is not too soon to take the precaution of protecting town property. Some night our people will be called up to fight a flerce fire borne toward town by a heavy wind, which may prove very disastrous. Somebody organize a crew and burn around the townsite. Don't be like the Irishman, "put a pud!ock on the barn door after the horse was stolen," but protect the town before it is too late.

The boys were having considerable fun out of Jeweler Lande Tuesday evening. He gave up the watch, though, notwithstanding his vow to the contrary, and without the cheek too. He got even by not settin 'em up.

Treasurer Thompson is reported as having made up his mind to build a Masonic hall. Knud never lets anything stop him from helping along the town.

Contractor James Mair has the contract to brild residence for Anton Enger. It will be 80 x 80. twelve feet high, and will occupy a prominent site on Park hill. Uncle Hi Williams is the first man to bring down a goose this fall in Griggs county, that we have heard of, which he did last Saturday. He also killed a crane.

Bob Busse's horse got scared coming from the river, Monday, fired its driver into the "ditch, and made a wild run for town. Bob was lunhurt, the horse cut some, and the vehicle somewhat knocked to pieces, but otherwise it was a very lucky runaway.

A. C. Wanderlick paid us a flying visit yesterday. He returns to Wahpeton Saturday.

Station Agent Cowen is going into the coal and wood business.

Geo. Siegner has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the firm of Enerson and Fridd, at Andrew Johnson expects his wife and children home tomorrow, and consequently there is an elasticity about his walk that is pleasing to behold.

Rob Clendening, the dude merchant of Dazey, returned from his St. Paul trip Monday, where he had been to see the Minnesota State Fair. We have not learned whether he has recovered his value and umbrella which he left on the westbound passenger when he got off at Sanborn. Well, a state fair only comes occasionally, and he is excusable.

Rev. H. P. James, the new pastor of the Congregational church, is a "fellow countryman" of the editor's. He was born at Weybridge, Vt. about ten miles from the ancient city of Vergennes.

All members of Frank M. Rockwell Post No. 181, (and those wishing to become such) are urged to be present at the next regular meeting Oct. 1st, at 7:20 p. m. Headquarters at the courthouse G. N. STORK, Commander.

Rev. J. R. McConnehey, of the Sanborn M. E church, will preach in Cooperstown, Oct. 2.

Rev. H. P. James, like all of our clergymen. is pleased to find the Dakota country congregation fully equal in intelligence and culture to those of New England.

Say, did you get on to those red, white and plue curtains that the boys of the G. A. R. hung up to the post room windows last faturday? No! Well they are up there just the same.

J. A. McCulloch sundayed at Lake Jessie.

The handsome new Baptist church will be dedicated next Wednesday, the 18th inst. Able speakers from abroad will be present.

Col. Frost planted six rows of potathirty-five rods long, which yielded 150 bushel; and fetched forty-five cents per bushel.

County Convention.

Natice is hereby given that a convention will be held at the court house in Cooperstown Saturday Oct. 1st. at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing five delegates to the division convention to be held at Fargo, Oct. 4th. Let everybody come and bring their families. We haven't had a convention in some time. The object of the North Dakota division convention is to take measures to get out a full vote on the question of division this fall. All friends of division should be present at the county convention. It will be a good time to trade orses or pay overdue notes.

KNUD THOMPSON, County Committee

Willow.

Mrs. A. D. Ellis returned, Monday, from her visit to Minneapolis. She reports a very enjoya-

Peter Cameron started Tuesday for Fort Dodge, In., called to the bedside of his eldest daughter. Annie, who has been ill of consumption for some months, with but slight hopes of her recovery. Arthur Know, with his Minnesota Chief, and John Paulsude. with an agitator machine, are deing some good jobs of threshing, considering the condition of the grain.

A. K. Holl isn't running with Arth's crew this season, and the benefits arising from the absence s very manifest to all concerned.

Joel Jimeson has been up to the farm this week overscering threshing operations and lending s hand where needed.

E. S. Hamilton is building a large barn for his stock, and has engaged N. B. Sorter to look after things while he is home this winter.

There will be quite an acreage of corn planted in this section next season, the experience of the few who planted small lots this season has been very encouraging.

Game don't appear to be very abundant about here this fall. Very few geese or brandt have put in an appearance as yet.

We hear that there is to be an election this fall. Curis X. Chestnuts.
