Home Knowledge: Plenty of exercise, good, wholesome food, well dited, will do more for the complexion than all the toilet appliances in the world. Use the flesh brush with vigor, walk, ride, row, run, giving every muscle in the body something to do; eat beef, brown bread, cereals, fruit, vegetables, and milk, and a good complexion must be the result.

Good, nourishing food must be eaten and well digested; the circulation equalized by plenty of exercise in the open air and frequent hathing. Each woman must be a law unto herself as to the number and temperature of the baths, as what strengthens and braces up one may be found to weaken and

For those who have vitality enough to react, the cold sponge bath in the morning will be found a delightful tonic. Delicate women will find that by beginning them in the warm weather they will, in most cases, be able to continue during the entire year. A handful of sea salt dissolved in the water will do much to strengthen the weak chest or back. In many cases the hot bath at night quiets the nerves, re-freshes the body, and induces sleep, but care should be taken not to ramain in the water too long; otherwise it will be found debilitating.

Distilled water is, of course, the best, but as all cannot-like Queen Victoria -afford so expensive a luxury, it will be found that clean rain water or any soft water will do nearly as well. Those who cannot obtain either one of these may use a few drops of ammonia, which will make the hardest water soft and clean off all impurities. A box of powdered borax is also an indispensable article upon the toilet table; a pinch of this will soften the water and is said to whiten the skin.

Oatmeal used externally and eaten frequently is very beneficial to the skin, as are also cracked wheat and other cereals. Put a handful of oatmeal in a bowl and pour a cup of boiling water over it. When this is settled wash the hands and face in the starchy water that rises to the top of it. The continued use of this for a week and the wearing of gloves at night will soften and whiten the roughest and darkest skin.

Ladies , with oily or greasy skins may use, sparingly, a few drops of camphor in the bath, or a few drops of diluted carbolic acid. The latter removes the odor of perspiration from the body and leaves a clean, wholesome smell. Care should be taken that it is not used too strong, as it is not only poisonous, but the odor is very offensive to some people. Borax and glycerine combined are used with good effect by some ladies, while thoroughly disagreeing with others. Glycerine alone softens and heals, but used too frequently will darken the skin and make it very sensitive; the borax obviates this and has a tendency to whiten.

To remove tan and sunburn use a preparation composed of equal parts of glycerine and rose-water, to which add the juice of two lemons after having strained it through fine muslin. More or less rose-water may be used to make the preparation the required consistency, as it is rather disagreeable if sticky. Fresh freckles may frequently be removed by touching the discolora-tions with a tiny camel's hair brush ped in lemon juice.

Finely powdered pumice-stone, which may be had at any druggist's, is very effecatious in removing all superfluous and roughened skin. Rub the hands and face thoroughly with it, dry, then wash off with tepid water and soap. The use of warm water is also very beneficial; some people go so far as to claim that the continued use of it will not only preserve the skin, but prevent

The proper toilet observances at night should be considered as a personal duty.

A Blind Dog's Guardian Cat.

I know you have a high opinion of the dog's character, but of the "harmfess, necessary, cat," perhaps you may not think so well as he or she deserves. The following anecdote of my own "Black Beauty." or Professor Blackie," as I often call him, may find a place in your generous paper. A favorit Pomeranian dog was cruelly blinded by a carter's lash, and while his owner tenderly bathed the inflamed eyes "Blackie" the sleek tom-cat, always sat by with a kindly look of pity in his luminous green eye. When "Laddie" the blind og. was called in at night, he often failed to find the door, or would strike his venerable head against the posts. "Blackie," having noted this difficulty, would jump from his warm cushion by the kitchen fire, trot out with a "mew into the dark night, and in a few minutes return with "Laddie" shoulder-to-shoulder, as it were, and the friends would then separate for the night.

"Laddie," when younger, had quietly resented the attentions shown by his owner to a fascinating kitten, who used to frolic with his long, fringed tail; but he was too noble to show active dislike. When the kitten died in convulsions—a victim to nerves and a ball of cotton—and its owner bent over the stiffened form in grief, "Laddie" came gravely up and kissed it. He followed to the "Laddie," when younger, had quiet-grave, and for many days was seen by his mistress to go up the garden and sit upon the sod. Was this his way of showing remorse for his former coldness, or might it be an expression of sym-pathy for his bereaved owner?—London Spectator.

Sad Effects of Ear-Boxing.

Science publishes some valuable records collected by Dr. Samuel Sexton on the observed effects of boxing the ears. Dr. Sexton has fifty-one cases upon his records in which the ear has been injured by blows of the open hand or fist. The nature of the injuries varied considerably. One had inflammation of the car, with suspicion of intracranial trouble, and a running of the ear for twelve years following a blow upon that organ. This patient subsequently died of brain disease. In another case the ear became inflamed and the hearing very much impaired. In another case the patient was slapped by his father on the left ear and immediate pain and deafness ensued, with a bloody discharge, from which he was three months in recovering.

The dangers to which Dr. Sexton calls attention are so grave that parents and all others should choose some other method of punishing their children than boxing the ears. It is not improbable that, if Dr. Sexton pursues his inquiries further, he will find other cases in which brain disease has followed his barbarous practice.

Don't Hawk, Spit, Cough,

A Very Bed Little Story.

She was the wife of a laboring man, a good woman who struggled hard to keep her house nest and her children well dressed, but she had a violent temper. It was Saturday, and the two little children, Ben and Alice, were ready for an excursion. Ben wore a white suit, which his mamma had made for him and of which she was very proud. Just as Ben was leaving home the mother discovered a black spot on the dazzling white suit.
"What's that she asked, sharply.

"Only a dease spot, mamma, only little dease spot."

"I'll make a grease spot out of you." she exclaimed angrily, trying to strike

Little Ben dodged, but ran his head against the sharp edge of the bureau. When she picked him up he was unconscious.

The physician found the child delirious, and pronounced the case brain-fever. It was quick in its work, and Ben was soon still and cold.

In a darkened room sat the mother by the side of the little coffin. Alice stole in quietly and tugged at her dress. "Mamma, darling, is Bennie a dease spot now?"

Sobs, choking sobs, answered her.

Fish from the Gulf of Mexico

New Orleans Times-Democrat: There have been from all along the gulf coast this year the most favorable reports as to the fishing. The catch has been everywhere phenomenally fine, and whether Spanish mackerel, redfish, redsnapper, or silver fish, the returns have been good, better by long odds than for any previous season. When the Bonnet Carre crevasse was closed several years ago one of the arguments in its favor was that its closing would im-prove the fishing along the Mississippi coast, the fresh water from the river having had a very injurious effect in driving off the salt-water fish and ruining the oyster-beds. In one sespect it did have all that was expected of it. The oyster-beds along the coast have revived, the oysters improved in size. flavor, and quality, and oyster packing and shipping have become an impor-tant industry. It has latterly been

LIVER DISEASE AND HEART TROUBLE.

Mrs. Mary A. McClure, Columbus, Kans., writes: "I addressed you in November, 1884, in regar' to my health, being afflicted with liver casease, heart trouble, and female weekness. I was advised to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Favorite Prescription and Pellets. I used one bottle of the 'Prescription, five of the 'Discovery, favorite prescription and Pellets.' My health began to improve under the use of your medicine, and my strength came back. My difficulties have all disappeared. I can work hard all day, or walk four or five miles a day, and stand it well; and when I began using the medicine I could scarcely walk across the room, most of the time, and I did not think I could ever feel well again. I have a little baby girl eight months old. Although she is a little delicate in size and appearance, she is healthy. I give your remedies all the credit for curing me, as I took no other treatment after beginning their use. I am very grateful for your kindness, and thank God and thank you that I am as well as I am after years of suffering."

Mrs. I. V. Webber, of Yorkshire, Cattaraugus Co., N. Y., writes: "I wish to say a few words in praise of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets.' I am happy to say I am now well and strong, thanks to your medicines."

My liver was inactive, and I suffered much from dyspepsia. I am pleased to say that your 'Golden

Rev. F. Asbury Howell, Pastor of the M. E. Church, of Silverton, N. J., says: "I was afficted with catarrh and indigestion. Boils and blotches began to arise on the surface of the skin, and I experienced a tired feeling and duliness. I began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as directed by him for such complaints, and in one week's time I began to feel like a new man, and am now sound and well. The 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets' are the best remedy for billous or sick headache, or tightness about the chest, and bad taste in the mouth, that I have ever used. ATERRIBLE

AFFLICTION.

Skin Disease.—The "Democrat and News," of Cambridge, Maryland, says: "Mrs. Eliza Ann Poole, wife of Leonard Poole, of Waltamsburg, Dorchester Co., Md., has been cured of a bad case of Eczema by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The disease appeared first in her feet, extended to the knees, covering the whole of the lower limbs from feet to knees, then attacked the elbows and became so severe as to prostrate her. After being treated by several physicians for a year or two she commenced the use of the medicine named above. She soon began to mend and is now well and hearty. Mrs. Poole thinks the medicine has saved her life and prolonged her days."

Mr. T. A. Ayres, of East New Market, Dorchester County, Md., vouches for the above facts.

Consumption.—Mrs. Edward Newton, of Harrowsmith.
Ont., writes: "You will ever be praised by me for the remarkable cure in my case. I was so reduced that my friends had all given me up, and I had also been given up by two doctors. I then went to the best doctor in these parts. He told me that medicine was only a punishment in my case, and would not undertake to treat me. He said I might try Cod liver oil if I liked, as that was the only thing that could possibly have any curative power over consumption so far advanced. I tried the Cod liver oil as a last to my stomach. My husband, not feeling satisfied to give me up yet, though he had bought for me everything he saw advertised for my complaint, procured a quantity of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took only four bottles, and, to the surprise of everybody, am to-day doing my own work, and am entirely free from that terrible cough which harrassed me night and day. I have been afflicted with rheumatism for a number of years, and now feel so much better that I believe, with a continuation of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I will be restored to perfect health. I would say to those who are falling a prey to that terrible disease consumption, do not do as I did, take everything else first; but take the 'Golden Medical Discovery' in the early stages of the disease, and thereby save a great deal of suffering and be restored to health at once. Any person who is still in doubt, need but write me, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply, when the foregoing statement will be fully substantiated by me."

Consumption and Heart Disease.—"I also wish to thank you for the remarkable cure you have effected in my case.

For three years I had suffered from that terrible disease, consumption, and heart disease, Refore consulting you I had wasted away to a skeleton; could not sleep nor rest, and many times which do do to be out of my misery. I then consulted you, and you told me you had hopes of curing me, but it would take time. I took five months I treatment in all. The first two months I was almost discouraged; could not perceive any favorable symptoms, but the third month I began to pick up in fiesh and strength. I cannot now recite how, step by step, the signs and realities of returning health gradually but surely developed themselves. To-day I tip the scales at one hundred and sixty, and am well and strong."

Our principal reliance in curing Mr. Downs' terrible disease was the "Golden Medical Discovery."
